HUNGER WALKERS — Some of the 226 young people from Circleville and Pickaway

County Schools who walked 10 miles Sunday in a CROP Hunger Walk are shown as they registered and received instructions in front of Circleville Junior High School. Pledges made to the walkers totaled $3,790.

CROP Hunger Walkers Brave Freezing Weather

The temperature hovered around 30 degrees, the wind gusting in icy blasts and the gray November sky threatened snow in earnest on Sunday afternoon. The Spirit was warm, however, as 226 eager young people met at Circleville Junior High School to begin a 10 mile CROP Hunger Walk to the Village Church in Ashville.

Representatives from Circleville and county church youth groups and clubs from the four area high schools started the walk in high spirits following a dedication prayer by David Allardice, rector of St. Philips Episcopal Church. They finished the route, with less than 10 dropouts, some four hours later.

The young people carried with them over $3,790 worth of pledges from interested adults, who shared the students' concern about world hunger and were willing to support their 10 mile hike.

Cindy Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cook from Emmett Chapel Church, had the highest individual total of pledges. When she finished her walk, the CROP campaign was $176 richer. Several other hikers had pledged for over $100 but many were far more modest. It was the number of young people willing to participate which swelled the final amount.

There was a flurry of activity behind the scenes as parents, youth advisers, React and Rescue Teams and law enforcement officials worked to insure the safety and comfort of the young hikers. The C. W. Neffs, the Pete Everhearts, the Hensons and the Lewis Cummings, who live along the route, permitted rest stops in their yards where punch and candy bars were dispensed and "mileage cards" were checked. React and Rescue squads provided radio service and had an ambulance in attendance; the Sheriff's Department controlled traffic at the front and rear of the line of hikers; while many brave parents and youth leaders walked with the students.

The Village Church in Ashville prepared hot chocolate and a warm welcome for the triumphant young people who streamed into the social room of the church between 5 and 5:30 p.m. Not the least of the participants was "Tina," Linda Pike's puppy, who walked the whole route and wore a sweater proclaiming her pride in her four sponsors.

The final amount realized on this project will be known on Sunday, Dec. 5 when hikers will meet at St. Philips Parish House from 2:30 to 5 p.m. to see slides and movies of their walk and to turn in their pledges. The overwhelming success of the event can not be questioned, however, by anyone who was in any way involved. It was a study in good fellowship and Christian concern that will not be soon forgotten.

South Viets Launch Drive In Cambodia; Little Action

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese troops under an umbrella of U.S. air power launched a new offensive today against North Vietnamese supply lines in eastern Cambodia.

No ground fighting was reported, but officers in the field claimed that air strikes killed 40 of the enemy near Chrum.

The thrust north of Highway 7 about 90 miles northwest of Saigon is aimed at rear staging areas of three enemy divisions operating on several fronts, in Cambodia from the border to the outskirts of Phnom Penh.

Field commanders said they hoped to reduce the threat of attacks on South Vietnamese bases on Highway 7 and to divert North Vietnamese forces battling Cambodian troops close to Phnom Penh.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the forward headquarters at Tay Ninh that an armored column spearheaded the initial push by more than 5,000 South Vietnamese troops who had been massed inside Cambodia in the past week. This number is expected to increase as the offensive progresses.

Esper said scores of U.S. helicopters and advisers poured into Tay Ninh, 55 miles northwest of Saigon, to support the operation.

South Vietnam has had troops inside Cambodia since April 1970, when they crossed the border to attack enemy bases that had previously been immune to attack. U.S. troops went to help in May and were pulled out two months later.

South Vietnamese forces have remained in eastern Cambodia ever since, sticking mostly to their base camps in the border region. They suffered a severe defeat last May when North Vietnamese regulars pushed them out of Snuol with heavy losses.

Armory Given To Circleville

According to Representative Myrl Shoemaker, the Ohio legislature passed House Bill 459 Monday morning, giving Circleville the old Ohio National Guard building on E. Franklin St.

The bill was made into law without Ohio Governor John Gilligan's signature.

The armory is the current home of the Pickaway County YMCA chapter, an organization that has been leasing the building from the state on a yearly basis.

Fate of the armory is now in the hands of city council.

Deliberate Sabotage Of Nixon Policy Set

Meany To Kill Pay Board

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — A close aide of AFL-CIO President George Meany said today the labor chieftain has set a deliberate course designed to force President Nixon to kick him off the Pay Board or junk federal wage controls altogether.

"It will happen long before next November's presidential election," said the aide, who declined to be quoted by name. Meany is already committed to trying to oust Nixon from the White House next year.

Asked if this meant Meany will seek to "goad" Nixon into throwing the three AFL-CIO members off the Pay Board, the aide said flatly, "Yes."

"Meany wants Nixon to kick him off the Pay Board," said another AFL-CIO source close to labor's Pay Board strategy. Meany has accused the Nixon administration of using the five public and five industry members to try to "goad" the five labor members into quitting the board which Nixon created to impose nationwide wage controls.

The fight, in which Meany has already announced a policy of noncooperation with Pay Board decisions that labor disagrees with, resumes today when the board starts drafting forms on which wage hikes must be reported to the board.

"There's bound to be a fight over that," the Meany aide said.

Nixon told some 2,000 AFL-CIO convention delegates last Friday he would press his Phase 2 wage-price control program to the fullest whether they cooperated or not.

Before Nixon left the hall, Meany gavelled the convention to order and said "We will now proceed with Act II." Nixon canceled plans to spend the weekend in Florida and flew back to Washington amid reports he was angry over his reception by the AFL-CIO which the White House denied.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the 1968 Democratic presidential nominee whom Meany supported against Nixon, said in Washington that Nixon had sought to provoke the AFL-CIO confrontation.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, a potential Democratic presidential contender along with Humphrey, shrugged it off as just one of those uncomfortable incidents in today's confrontation politics.

Humphrey, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, an announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination canceled appearances before the AFL-CIO today to remain in Washington for a Senate vote on a crucial political financing bill that Nixon opposes.

The AFL-CIO is expected to give heavy financial backing to whoever wins the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

The Meany aide said the labor federation's plan is to escalate its opposition to pay controls until Nixon is forced to take action against the AFL-CIO members of the board, or abolish the Pay Board and put the controls into the hands of the Cost of Living Council, an all-government panel.

The plan is designed to give the AFL-CIO a political weapon to use in behalf of the Democratic presidential nominee against Nixon.

"If Nixon gives us everything we want on wage controls, we'll find something else to complain about," the aide said.

Meany's chief complaint now is the Pay Board's ruling against most retroactive pay for workers during the 90-day wage price freeze which expired a week ago.

If the Pay Board reverses itself and grants full retroactivity the AFL-CIO's tactic would then be to zero in against the Pay Board's rule limiting most new wage hikes to 5.5 percent, the aide said.

Dole Promises Governors Election Role

State Republican Leaders Demand Convention Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert J. Dole, the Republican national chairman, has assured GOP governors they will have "a piece of the action" in the 1972 presidential campaign.

But he said their specific role will depend on political decisions made by President Nixon and his campaign strategists.

"It's a little different when you have an incumbent president," Dole said in an interview. "You have to consider what the President wants."

What the governors want, according to their chairman, Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan, is "a strong voice in how the national campaign is run" next year, and two of the top jobs at the GOP national convention in San Diego.

Dole said he will discuss those requests with Milliken early next month. But he said it is too early to start assigning specific roles, in the convention or the campaign.

He said some of those decisions will be made by Nixon's campaign manager, presumably Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Republicans will govern 20 of the 50 states next year, and

Eban Calls For Peace, Not Words

JERUSALEM (AP) — Foreign Minister Abba Eban called on Egyptian President Anwar Sadat on Sunday to negotiate a peace settlement with Israel and "stop the public bombast."

Israel also named a new military chief of staff.

Eban was referring to Sadat's statement Saturday that "the time for battle has come, there is no more hope." During a tour of Suez Canal positions, Sadat urged his troops "to be ferocious in battle, to prove to the world that we are a fighting people who know how to defend our dignity and honor."

Sadat also told pilots at an air base that Egypt had broken off discussions with the United States on U.S. proposals for an agreement with Israel to reopen the Suez Canal. He accused Washington of retreating from its declared policy of seeking a peaceful settlement and said it now wants "by all means to achieve Israel's goals."

Egypt's Arab Socialist Union, the government political party, met in Cairo Sunday to discuss defense plans and organizing civil defense units.

It urged the Egyptians to assume your responsibility, determine your own destiny and restore your lost lands," a reference to Arab territory captured by Israel in the 1967 war.

Eban said Sadat's speech to the troops combined "a military threat with political extortion" which "can bring nothing but disaster to his nation and region."

"We shall, of course, not yield to military intimidation or to political pressure," Eban declared.

Other government officials accused Sadat of "heightening war hysteria" and said he left Egypt "little way out of a confrontation." But the official said: "Still he does not close the door completely to a political settlement. He leaves a narrow space open, but let's hope it is not too narrow."

The Israeli government also named a new military chief of staff to succeed Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, who had served an extra year in the post. His replacement, taking over Jan. 1, is Maj. Gen. David Elazar, 46, who ran the successful anti-guerrilla campaign in northern Israel from 1964 to 1969. For the last two years he has been chief of operations, the No. 2 job in the Israeli military hierarchy.

Bar Lev, who has been chief of staff since Jan. 1, 1968, will become minister of industry, informed sources reported.

Pakistan Claims Nation Invaded By Indian Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pakistan radio broadcast said today India "has launched an all-out offensive against East Pakistan" without a formal declaration of war.

The Pakistan government broadcast in English from Karachi was monitored here.

It said "the Indian army has concentrated all its might in the Jessor area where the attack has been launched by nine Indian infantry divisions, four Indian mountain divisions and two Indian tank regiments."

The United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China all have urged restraint by India and Pakistan.

Rally Marks Start Of Kent State Trials

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Jury selection began today for the trial of the first of 25 persons indicted in the Kent State University disorders. A close security watch was maintained at the courthouse for an anticipated noon demonstration.

Jerry Rupe was the first slated for trial on charges tracing to the May 1970, disorders when four Kent State University students were killed.

Rupe, 23, has been in the Portage County Jail under $25,000 bond awaiting trial in two other cases involving charges of arson and possession of narcotics.

Rupe, who was not a Kent State student, was indicted on three counts by the special state grand jury—first-degree riot, assaulting and striking a fireman and interfering with a fireman at the scene of the May 2, 1970, fire which destroyed an ROTC building.

At the time he was served with the secret indictment, Rupe was in Stark County Jail serving a three-month sentence for possession of narcotics and instruments to administer them,

As soon as Rupe's trial is concluded in the courtroom of Common Pleas Court Judge Edwin W. Jones, Peter C. Bliet, 23, of Rochester, N.Y., goes on trial on charges of arson and riot. Bliet was a junior at Kent State at the time of the disturbances.

Individual trials of the 21 other defendants are to follow in succession. Two others indicted are still at large.

Special state prosecutors handling the first cases are attorneys James D. Primm Jr. of Lisbon and John F. Hayward of Toledo.

A second team of two prosecutors—Jack R. Alton of Columbus and Robert C. Alexander of Dayton—is to relieve them next week.

The state is paying the costs of the prosecution, as it paid for the special grand jury investigation of the disturbances which climaxed with the May 4, 1970 clash between Ohio National Guard troops and a group of rock-throwing demonstrators. The troops opened fire, killing four students and wounding nine others.

The trials are proceeding even though a final appeal challenging the grand jury indictments has not yet been heard by the U.S. Supreme Court. The high court last Friday refused to grant defense attorneys any further delay pending the final ruling.

The defendants include students, former students, nonstudents and one faculty member, Dr. Thomas Lough, a member of the sociology department who is accused of inciting to riot.

Rupe is being defended by attorney James Hoagie.

BULLETIN

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A special state grand jury probing Lima State Hospital today returned 31 secret indictments and got court approval for further deliberations.

Grand Jury foreman Donald Hayes gave copies of the indictment to Common Pleas Judge John D. Harnishfeger shortly after noon.

Poverty Bill Fight Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House-led lobbying effort to defeat a multibillion-dollar anti-poverty bill has been launched in the House in hopes of sparing President Nixon the choice of signing or vetoing it.

The bill, a compromise between separate versions already passed by the House and Senate, contains a provision for a new child-care program which has aroused intense opposition from conservatives.

However, it has equally strong support from civil rights, labor and women's organizations, and Nixon will be in trouble with one side or the other no matter what he does.

In an effort to free him from the dilemma, White House congressional operatives are working with House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and Southern Democrats to line up votes against the bill. Backers have delayed a vote until Dec. 2 to allow time for gathering their votes.

In addition to the child-care program, the bill authorizes a new legal-services program for the poor and extends for two more years job-training programs for needy youths, community action programs and other activities run by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

See 620-720 Highway Deaths Over Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — Between 620 and 720 persons might be killed on the nation's highways over the long Thanksgiving weekend, the National Safety Council estimates.

The 12-hour period covered by the estimate begins at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

During the same period, 27,000 to 32,000 persons might be injured in highway crashes, the council said.

The council, which makes no count of its own fatalities and injuries, said there were 651 fatalities during the 1970 Thanksgiving holiday weekend. The Associated Press count for the period was 646. The highest Thanksgiving weekend toll recorded by the AP was 764 in 1968.

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

When the Roundtown Players decided in April to present a musical, we knew that unprecedented support by the community would be necessary to obtain both a theatrical and financial success. We chose "South Pacific" because we felt it would appeal to people from all walks of life.

We are now pleased to realize that the citizens of Pickaway County really do want to support a community theater. For five consecutive performances, the tremendous full-house audiences nearly brought tears of joy to the eyes of cast and crew.

There are no adequate words to express the joy and pride we feel to be part of such an appreciative community. We gratefully thank all patrons and advertisers who helped make our production possible. Our deepest thanks go to the County Commissioners who have helped us remodel Memorial Hall into a better theater. But most of all — thank you — citizens of Pickaway County, for making our efforts worthwhile.

Sheriff Reports 8 Accidents During Sunday Snow Storm

Five persons were treated for injuries in two accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Sunday.

A total of eight accident reports were investigated by the Department after 8 p.m. Sunday when the County was blanketed with an inch and a half of swirling snow.

Three of the injuries occurred 10:55 p.m. Sunday when a car, northbound on Route 23, south of Crites Road, spun out of control on the icy road, headed for the right side of the northbound lane, traveled 114 feet in a ditch on the east side of the roadway, and continued for 96 feet, flipping end over end before coming to rest on its top.

Nancy E. Hill, 17, Columbus, driving on a temporary permit; her mother, Margaret Hill, and 11-year-old brother, Paul Hill, were all treated at Berger Hospital for minor cuts, bumps and lacerations.

The car was a total loss. Clark McFarland II, 22, Route 1, Williamsport, sustained a fractured left arm and leg, multiple contusions and abrasions, as the trail bike he was operating was involved in a collision with another trail bike.

The accident, still under investigation by the Sheriff's Department, occurred 2:25 p.m. Sunday on the Williamsport - Darbyville Road.

Driver of the other motorcycle, John P. Moore, 20, Route 1, Williamsport, suffered contusions and abrasions.

Investigating Deputy, Lowell Ferguson, said witnesses claimed Moore was traveling southbound in a ditch along the roadway when he collided with McFarland, who was driving on a driveway. Impact occurred three feet from the road and both bikes came to rest 45 feet from that point in the east ditch.

Both motorcycles were removed from the scene before Ferguson arrived.

Six Are Injured In Sunday Crash

Six persons were injured Sunday in a two-car crash three miles north of the Ross Pickaway County Line. It was one of 13 accidents investigated that day by the local Highway Patrol.

Injured were Bonnie Lou Murphy of Piketon, her husband Charles, 32, and their three-year-old son, Troy A. Cash, 51, his wife Kathleen and son Randy, 14. All were taken to Chillicothe Hospital where they received emergency treatment.

Mrs. Murphy was headed north on Route 23 in Pickaway County and slowed to turn into a crossover. Cash was driving behind the Murphy vehicle and was unable to stop.

Juveniles Charged In House Burglary

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Earl Kuhn arrested two juveniles, 13 and 15-year old boys, in connection with a house burglary Sunday.

City Police Investigating Four Thefts

Circleville police are busy investigating a number of thefts in the city over the weekend.

Charles Smith, 820 Maplewood Drive, told police he had stopped his car at the corner of Court and Franklin Sts. about 1:30 p.m. Saturday to rearrange his hunting equipment.

After driving off he noticed he had failed to put his shotgun, valued at $100, back in the car. He returned to the scene but the gun was no longer there.

A rain coat and lantern was stolen from Herman Diltz, 219 Second Ave. Value was $15.

CHARLES Downing Jr., Stoutsville, reported the theft of a $60 chrome wheel cover from his car while it was parked at Ohio and Clinton Sts.

Harley Hoover, 549 Northridge Road, notified police he had just purchased a new car battery and stopped at the grocery store on his way home.

While he was in the store someone took the battery from inside his truck.

The front hall door of the Knights of Columbus building, 201 E. Franklin St., was pried open but nothing reported missing.

Oleander Honored In Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The oleander has been named this city's official flower.

The city council adopted it after a chamber of commerce committee pointed out that oleanders on Port Arthur's Seawall Drive, planted in 1932, are a memorial to local servicemen who lost their lives in military actions.

Sheriff Reports 8 Accidents During Sunday Snow Storm

Five persons were treated for injuries in two accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Sunday.

A total of eight accident reports were investigated by the Department after 8 p.m. Sunday when the County was blanketed with an inch and a half of swirling snow.

Three of the injuries occurred 10:55 p.m. Sunday when a car, northbound on Route 23, south of Crites Road, spun out of control on the icy road, headed for the right side of the northbound lane, traveled 114 feet in a ditch on the east side of the roadway, and continued for 96 feet, flipping end over end before coming to rest on its top.

Nancy E. Hill, 17, Columbus, driving on a temporary permit; her mother, Margaret Hill and 11-year-old brother, Paul Hill, were all treated at Berger Hospital for minor cuts, bumps and lacerations.

The car was a total loss.

Clark McFarland II, 22, Route 1, Williamsport, sustained a fractured left arm and leg, multiple contusions and abrasions, as the trail bike he was operating was involved in a collision with another trail bike.

The accident, still under investigation by the Sheriff's Department, occurred 2:25 p.m. Sunday on the Williamsport - Darbyville Road.

Driver of the other motorcycle, John P. Moore, 20, Route 1, Williamsport, suffered contusions and abrasions.

Investigating Deputy, Lowell Ferguson, said witnesses claimed Moore was traveling southbound in a ditch along the roadway when he collided with McFarland, who was driving on a driveway. Impact occurred three feet from the road and both bikes came to rest 45 feet from that point in the east ditch.

Both motorcycles were removed from the scene before Ferguson arrived.

Six Are Injured In Sunday Crash

Six persons were injured Sunday in a two-car crash three miles north of the Ross Pickaway County Line. It was one of 13 accidents investigated that day by the local Highway Patrol.

Injured were Bonnie Lou Murphy of Pikeston, her husband Charles, 32, and their three-year-old son, Troy A. Cash, 51, his wife Kathleen and son Randy, 14. All were taken to Chillicothe Hospital where they received emergency treatment.

Mrs. Murphy was headed north on Route 23 in Pickaway County and slowed to turn into a crossover. Cash was driving behind the Murphy vehicle and was unable to stop.

Auto Trains

Beginning next month motorists driving between Washington, D. C., and Florida will find available a new way to go — rail. No, they won't be driving down the tracks. They will load their families, luggage and cars on an auto-train and sit back to enjoy the scenery. Auto-train? Vehicle carrying trains are popular in Europe, but this will be the first such venture in the United States. As such, it will be watched with much interest.

The initial report is that the venture is getting off to a good start.

With the first daily run scheduled for Dec. 6, officials of the private corporation which will operate the 25-car trains report they are booked almost to the first of the year.

Only passengers accompanied by an auto will be accommodated on the auto-train. The fare for car and up to four passengers, including dinner and breakfast, will be $190. Two meals for four could cost almost that much at some restaurants in Florida.

Additional passengers, up to the legal limit of the vehicle, will be charged $15 each.

What is noteworthy about the auto-train is that it is one of the few attempts in recent years by private operators to revive passenger rail service. The concept of hauling passengers and their cars long distances is an attempt to tap a specialized market, but it is one with a potential for many thousands of families each year.

Loss Of Citizenship

The obligations of citizenship in a free society are not absolute — they can be renounced, but at the cost of risking citizenship.

This is the essence of the unanimous decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the case of Thomas Glenn Jolley.

Jolley is a 27-year-old North Carolina native who renounced his American citizenship in 1967, after going to Canada to evade the draft.

Now back in the United States, Jolley said it was his desire to remain here. The Supreme Court in effect has ordered him deported within 90 days.

Not all the youths who fled the United States in order to evade service in the armed forces renounced their citizenship. Only a minority of them did so.

But that group has been put on notice by the Jolley decision that as far as this particular act is concerned, the government does not simply forgive and forget.

It is regrettable that any native American should lose his citizenship, and the instances where it has happened have been rare. The court could not have ruled otherwise in this case, however, without voiding the individual's responsibility for his own acts.

Rampaging Nature

This is one of the most destructive years in memory, as far as natural calamities are concerned. A tally of only the 10 most destructive onslaughts of nature this year shows a toll approaching 50,000 dead, hundreds of thousands homeless, and cities which have existed for centuries wiped completely off the map.

Hurricanes, cyclones and earthquakes claimed most lives this year, with the count of casualties in the latest cyclone and tidal wave in India incomplete. Reports that a million homes were destroyed may have been exaggerated.

Although nature does unleash her devastating punches more frequently in some parts of the world than others, she always holds plenty in reserve for the unsuspecting who feel supremely confident they will never be targets. They can and they might at any time.

Fighting Fires In Manila Tough In Hot Season

By WILLIAM C. MANN
MANILA (AP) — What do you do if your ninth floor office or apartment in Manila catches fire? You get out and pray for rain.

The Greater Manila area — it's a little bigger than Chicago — has about 80 fire trucks, but only one has an extension ladder that reaches eight floors. Another truck has a 65-foot ladder, good for six floors. They are the longest extension ladders in the Philippines.

Add to this a notoriously poor water distribution system in which a hydrant's flow under the tropical sun often is only a trickle, and the conditions are right for millions of pesos in fire losses annually. The big damage comes during the Philippines' fourth month long hot season.

There are approximately 100 buildings in the city with more than eight floors, about 20 of them hotels and many others combination residential-commercial buildings.

The last big fire of the most recent hot season illustrates the city's fire-fighting problems.

It was a quiet Sunday afternoon, and flames began spitting out of the seventh-floor windows of a 13-story insurance building in Makati, the city's wealthiest suburb. The blaze was eating through the eighth floor when fire units arrived.

One ladder went up and a Filipino fireman scrambled to its top. His hose, made impotent by low pressure, trained a stream on the sixth floor where it made office records soggy but did little else. The top seven floors were destroyed within eight hours.

During the first six months of 1971, which included the hot season, fire cost Manilans above $15 million. Twenty-nine persons were killed and scores injured. Fire periodically devastates shantytowns set up by squatter, but Manila fire chief Federico Garcia said the city's major losses — human and financial — generally occur in the high-rise buildings.

"There's not even a law that staircases must be enclosed," Garcia said. "But we're not approving blueprints for buildings that don't enclose them. Anything to stop the fires and save lives."

"We need new equipment, but we don't have the money to buy it. We need more men, but we don't have the money to pay them."

To serve the city of 1.5 million inhabitants, Garcia's force has 60 officers and 300 firemen, whose monthly salaries begin at about $45. Jobs are tight, and he said he had no trouble finding men to ride the city's outdated trucks, some of which still use hand-cranked sirens. Suburban companies have fewer men for another 2 million people.

"Who said history doesn't repeat itself? I just got another 'D'!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can you explain why I, as a young mother, should have developed a severe case of the blues after my baby was born? It was a happy pregnancy and a normal delivery. I just don't understand why I have crying spells.

Mrs. B. F. O., Conn.
Dear Mrs. O.:
Post-partum depression occurs with a greater frequency than commonly suspected.

The exact reasons are not entirely known. Many normal, perfectly happy, well-adjusted women are affected this way.

Pregnancy is associated with many physical changes that may temporarily affect the psychic balance.

There is no shame in having these symptoms. I emphasize this so that you will be encouraged to speak about it openly to your husband and, with his help, seek the guidance of a psychologist or psychiatrist.

Very often it takes little time to help you readjust to your normal pattern of living.

You must not feel any sense of inadequacy because this so-called complication of a normal pregnancy happened to you.

What is the normal pulse rate for an adult?

Mr. S. L., Va.
The pulse rate, which is identical with the regular heart beat, varies between 65 and 75 beats per minute in a normal healthy man.

The pulse rate in a healthy woman is higher.

Under emotional stress, and after exercise, the pulse rate increases rapidly, then slowly returns to normal.

There are great variations in the pulse rate of people with every conceivable kind of illness, and even in normal health.

Taking one's own pulse can be confusing. In fact, it is known that when people take their own pulse and try to count it, anxiety develops and their pulse rate goes up.

Tobacco, coffee, alcohol, and drugs can all cause variations of the pulse rate.

The counting and interpretation of the pulse rate should be left to the doctor.

Are there doctors who specialize in the treatment of cancers?

Mr. G. T., Ariz.

Dear Mr. T.:
It is a general misconception to believe that doctors specialize in the medical or surgical treatment of cancers.

Cancer surgery is performed by surgeons in all specialties.

For example, the general surgeon may treat a cancer of the larynx.

There are some hospitals that devote themselves to the medical and surgical treatment of cancers and have special equipment and nursing facilities available for that purpose.

Modern Egyptians Use Old Names

By ALY MAHMOUD
Associated Press Writer
CAIRO (AP) — Some aspects of a long-dead past still are alive in parts of modern Egypt.

Names, for example, such as Isis, Nefertiti, and Ramses still are used by some contemporary Egyptians. In the old days, Isis was the mother goddess of ancient Egypt, Nefertiti the wife of the hunter-king Tut Ankh Amun, and Ramses a warrior-king.

In addition to names, some present-day village dwellers also are influenced by the ancient practices of medicine, black magic, and burial of the dead.

Some 30 centuries back, Egyptians worshipped the sun. Today, when a village child loses a tooth he hurls it at the sun and cries: "Oh, sun... take this buffalo tooth, and give me another which looks like the tooth of a bride."

In Talkha, a village in the Nile Delta region, the family of a sick person place a loaf of bread under his head to drive away evil spirits. This custom, mentioned in the pyramid texts, was popular 3,000 years ago.

Tourists who visit the Cairo Museum find the statue of a noted healer called Zed-her with inscribed formulas for different illnesses. The inscription includes this note: "If you are suffering of an illness, pour fresh water on my statue. The water will run into the inscription and will thus have healing power. Drink the water and you will be cured."

Unfortunately, the statue cannot be touched and anyone pouring water on it would be arrested.

Today, the power of written words still prevails among Egyptian peasants. In some villages sick persons dangle from their necks "Higabs," of written prescriptions prepared by holy men and wrapped in cloth. They are claimed to have a healing effect.

Some wealthy peasants wrap their dead in 100 meters of cloth, a protection against speedy disintegration. They are influenced by the ancient pharaonic custom of mummification. Islam forbids the use of decorative or expensive shrouds. When the prophet Mohamed died he was buried wrapped in his cloak.

Like the ancients, Egyptians today light lamps at tombs during feast days, bring food and cookies and go for a family "visit" to the cemeteries in order to "please the dead."

In modern Egypt, the eldest son of a dead person descends into the grave to loosen the wrapping on the body. The origin of that practice was found in the pyramid texts, which say:

"Horus comes to you, to separate your bandage and fling off your bonds."

Horus was the son-god, the eldest boy of Orisis, god of the dead. Isis was his mother.

Bus Crash Kills One, Injures 8

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A Greyhound bus enroute from Cincinnati to Youngstown skidded into a road abutment holding up a sign on the Akron Expressway Sunday and was sliced in half, killing one person and hospitalizing eight others, police said.

The victim was taken to St. Thomas Hospital along with two of the injured persons. Identification was being withheld pending notification of relatives.

Six persons were taken to Akron City Hospital, including the bus driver, Andrew Mallin, 65, who was reported in fair condition.

In serious condition in the intensive care unit of the hospital were Mary O'Hara, 64, of Girard and Purushoptan Shishka, 28, of Youngstown. In fair condition were Shirley Muse, 26, of Youngstown; Robin Tolbin, 14, of Youngstown and Patricia Major.

Police said at least 20 persons were aboard when the mishap occurred near the Gilchrist exit. They said a group of persons from the Greyhound Board of Safety Experts was investigating the accident.

U.S. Falsifies Record

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Really, our State Department takes the cake for fatuous insanity. It dispatches Richard Davies, a Deputy Assistant Secretary for European Affairs, to tell a House of Representatives Foreign Affairs subcommittee that the three million Jews in Soviet Russia have no genuine cause for complaint that is different from that of any other Soviet citizen. Everybody in Russia, so Mr. Davies avers, receives the same treatment, so what do Jews have to crab about that distinguishes them from Lithuanians, Ugurs, Crimean Tartars and Ukrainians? They should, one is left to suppose, be satisfied that a jail is a jail is a jail for all its inmates.

This attempt to play down the charges that Jews in Russia are singled out for "terrorization" is in line with our detente-seeking policy; we don't want to offend the Kremlin while President Nixon is angling for nuclear negotiations and projecting a trip to Moscow. If the soft approach to Communists would do any good there would be a pragmatic justification for Mr. Davies' remarks. But on the record of 50 years the Soviets have never once been moved by attempts to butter them up. They make their deals on a basis of cold-blooded national interest and they respect nothing but strength.

The State Department's claim about the plight of Jews in Russia is contradicted by all the evidence. For all of $1.25 the State Department could have purchased a revealing paperback edited by Richard Cohen called "Let My People Go" which presents a documentary story of the struggle of Soviet Jews for the right to emigrate or to function freely inside Russia as a community with its own cultural traditions and religion.

Mr. Cohen's anthology of documents which includes everything from Yevushenko's famous poem "Babi Yar" in its original "unedited" version to the statements made by various Jewish defendants in Soviet courtrooms gives the lie to the State Department's efforts to counter the idea that Jews in Russia are undergoing any special ordeal.

Soviet Jews so Mr. Davies told the Congressmen "are still the best educated Soviet minority." If they are it is due almost entirely to their own efforts. Mr. Cohen presents a "fact sheet" on Soviet anti-Jewish discrimination that begins with educational statistics. In 1886 under the Czar 14.5 per cent of all university students in Russia were Jewish. In 1935 before the Stalinist period had well begun the percentage of Jews in higher education was 13 per cent. But by 1965 this had slipped to a disastrous 3.2 per cent and in 1970 the figure was 2.5 per cent.

One reason Jews in Russia no longer qualify for university training is that annual quotas for preferential admission are granted to each Soviet republic and the Jews lacking a republic of their own enjoy no college quota. Incidentally Jews are now totally excluded from Soviet military academies and training schools for diplomats. The growing discrimination against Jews in Russia can be measured by looking at the ethnic composition of the Communist Party Central Committee. In 1937 1.8 per cent of the Central Committee were Jews. Today there is only one Jewish member out of 241. Before the 1936-38 purges 160,000 Jewish students attended 11,000 classes in Jewish schools. Today there is not a single school or classroom in Russia where Jewish culture and history are taught in any language. In 1947 there were 57 books published in Yiddish. In 1948 there were 60. But in the eight-year period from 1960 to 1968 there were only eight.

In religion it has been the same story. In 1956 there were 450 synagogues in Russia. In 1969 there were 59. Today there are only 4 and half of these are in non-European parts of the Soviet Union where less than 10 per cent of the Jews reside.

These statistics are available to the U.S. State Department. But if they had been used it would not have helped our "soft" diplomatic strategy. The joke of it is that the Kremlin will hardly take it as a compliment that we have justified Soviet policy on the ground that it is just as mean to Balts, Tartars and Uzbeks as it is to Jews.

Congo Creek bridge, near the residence of Burr H. Rader on the Chillicothe Pike, was the scene of another wreck as a truck and trailer owned by H. M. Crites and Co. loaded with corn went through the rotten bridge. The corn went into the creek. It was the second accident at the bridge in four months. At that time Sam Fohl went through the bridge floor. It was closed for repairs and some timbers put under to strengthen it.

Lee Lowellen was elected mayor of Williamsport without opposition; Warren K. Briggs nosed out W. A. Welch by one vote for mayor of New Holland. Election results gave the mayor's post at Mt. Sterling to Courtney Neff.

The election in Circleville was very quiet. Henry Renick was elected mayor over George Fitzpatrick by 97 votes; A. A. Greeno beat Harry Crow for the auditor's post; Albert Crist beat Frank Gordon in the treasurer's race and H. G. Stevenson, C. F. Landenberger and Benton T. Hedges were elected to city council seats.

George H. Fickardt and Co., Circleville druggist, recommended 188 proof alcohol for auto radiators to protect them from winter cold. It sold for 60 cents a gallon.

A report of the New York marriage of Leon Friedman revealed that he and Miss Myrilla Adelson fox trotted to the altar and were married to the jazzed version of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" by saxophones and clarinets of Ted Lewis' band. The master of eccentric noise insisted that jazzing was the way to a happy married life.

S. C. Grant, the coal dealer, was ordered to appear before Mayor Fitzpatrick on an affidavit sworn to by David Moore who claimed Grant short weighted him on a ton of coal.

Mr. and Mrs. John Riley returned home from their honeymoon and went into housekeeping in the flat over Neudings grocery.

J. W. Vickers of Kennewick,

Washington, was a weekend guest of William Rader, of Jackson Twp. Vickers and Rader were together from 1898 to 1915, the first two years in the United States and the last 15 years in the Philippine Islands. They were first in the army as members of the sixth cavalry and later in the service of the Philippine government.

It was quite a bag for Mrs. Alber Fosnaugh who shot a chicken hawk measuring 50 inches from wingtip to wingtip at her home two miles north of Stoutsville.

During a council meeting, Mr. Crites reported that the citizens asking for the extension of the water mains on York St. were not willing to assist in laying the pipes, so the committee had nothing further to report at that time.

Ex-sheriff Henry W. Schleich died at his home in Monroe Twp. at the age of 59 suffering from pernicious leukemia. His wife, Martha Thompson Schleich, had died a month earlier at their Columbus home, so the former sheriff and Monroe Twp. school board member returned to his former home. He had served on the school board for 12 years and had been county sheriff for two terms beginning 1904.

Frank Hoffman, of N. Court St., met with a severe accident at his home. He was in the act of placing a bog in a pen when the animal suddenly turned and knocked him down, tearing the ligaments of his left leg.

Local residents joined together for a performance of "Miss Bob White," a comic opera, at the Grand theatre. Included in the cast were: Frank Howard as Lord Bashful — an ardent fox hunter, Mack Parrett as Rodd, a Quaker farmer, Phillis Lilly as his daughter Goldenrod, Fred Wittich as Jack — a farmer lad and American sailor, Milton Friedman as Van Million, a companion to millionaire Billion, forced to become a tramp, George Miller was O'Yankemin, the village policeman and Mary Pickens was "Bob White" a young society belle. It was sponsored by Circleville BPOE.

Auto Trains

Beginning next month motorists driving between Washington, D. C., and Florida will find available a new way to go — rail. No, they won't be driving down the tracks. They will load their families, luggage and cars on an auto-train and sit back to enjoy the scenery. Auto-train? Vehicle carrying trains are popular in Europe, but this will be the first such venture in the United States. As such, it will be watched with much interest.

The initial report is that the venture is getting off to a good start.

With the first daily run scheduled for Dec. 6, officials of the private corporation which will operate the 25-car trains report they are booked almost to the first of the year.

Only passengers accompanied by an auto will be accommodated on the auto-train. The fare for car and up to four passengers, including dinner and breakfast, will be $190. Two meals for four could cost almost that much at some restaurants in Florida.

Additional passengers, up to the legal limit of the vehicle, will be charged $15 each.

What is noteworthy about the auto-train is that it is one of the few attempts in recent years by private operators to revive passenger rail service. The concept of hauling passengers and their cars long distances is an attempt to tap a specialized market, but it is one with a potential for many thousands of families each year.

Loss Of Citizenship

The obligations of citizenship in a free society are not absolute — they can be renounced, but at the cost of risking citizenship.

This is the essence of the unanimous decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the case of Thomas Glenn Jolley.

Jolley is a 27-year-old North Carolina native who renounced his American citizenship in 1967, after going to Canada to evade the draft.

Now back in the United States, Jolley said it was his desire to remain here. The Supreme Court in effect has ordered him deported within 90 days.

Not all the youths who fled the United States in order to evade service in the armed forces renounced their citizenship. Only a minority of them did so.

But that group has been put on notice by the Jolley decision that as far as this particular act is concerned, the government does not simply forgive and forget.

It is regrettable that any native American should lose his citizenship, and the instances where it has happened have been rare. The court could not have ruled otherwise in this case, however, without voiding the individual's responsibility for his own acts.

Rampaging Nature

This is one of the most destructive years in memory, as far as natural calamities are concerned. A tally of only the 10 most destructive onslaughts of nature this year shows a toll approaching 50,000 dead, hundreds of thousands homeless, and cities which have existed for centuries wiped completely off the map.

Hurricanes, cyclones and earthquakes claimed most lives this year, with the count of casualties in the latest cyclone and tidal wave in India incomplete. Reports that a million homes were destroyed may have been exaggerated.

Although nature does unleash her devastating punches more frequently in some parts of the world than others, she always holds plenty in reserve for the unsuspecting who feel supremely confident they will never be targets. They can and they might at any time.

Fighting Fires In Manila
Tough In Hot Season

By WILLIAM C. MANN
MANILA (AP) — What do you do if your ninth floor office or apartment in Manila catches fire? You get out and pray for rain.

The Greater Manila area — it's a little bigger than Chicago — has about 80 fire trucks, but only one has an extension ladder that reaches eight floors. Another truck has a 65-foot ladder, good for six floors. They are the longest extension ladders in the Philippines.

Add to this a notoriously poor water distribution system in which a hydrant's flow under the tropical sun often is only a trickle, and the conditions are right for millions of pesos in fire losses annually. The big damage comes during the Philippines' fourth month long hot season.

There are approximately 100 buildings in the city with more than eight floors, about 20 of them hotels and many others combination residential-commercial buildings.

The last big fire of the most recent hot season illustrates the city's fire-fighting problems.

It was a quiet Sunday afternoon, and flames began spitting out of the seventh-floor windows of a 13-story insurance building in Makati, the city's wealthiest suburb. The blaze was eating through the eighth floor when fire units arrived.

One ladder went up and a Filipino fireman scrambled to its top. His hose, made impotent by low pressure, trained a stream on the sixth floor where it made office records soggy but did little else. The top seven floors were destroyed within eight hours.

During the first six months of 1971, which included the hot season, fire cost Manilans about $15 million. Twenty-nine persons were killed and scores injured.

Fire periodically devastates shantytowns set up by squatter, but Manila fire chief Federico Garcia said the city's major losses — human and financial — generally occur in the high-rise buildings.

"There's not even a law that staircases must be enclosed," Garcia said. "But we're not approving blueprints for buildings that don't enclose them. Anything to stop the fires and save lives."

"We need new equipment, but we don't have the money to buy it. We need more men, but we don't have the money to pay them."

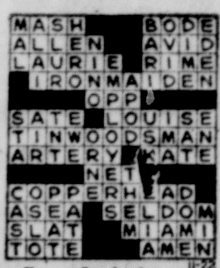

To serve the city of 1.5 million inhabitants, Garcia's force has 60 officers and 390 firemen, whose monthly salaries begin at about $45. Jobs are tight, and he said he had no trouble finding men to ride the city's outdated trucks, some of which still use hand-cranked sirens.

Suburban companies have fewer men for another 2 million people.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can you explain why I, as a young mother, should have developed a severe case of the blues after my baby was born? It was a happy pregnancy and a normal delivery. I just don't understand why I have crying spells.

Mrs. B. F. O., Conn.
Dear Mrs. O.:
Post-partum depression occurs with a greater frequency than commonly suspected.

The exact reasons are not entirely known. Many normal, perfectly happy, well-adjusted women are affected this way.

Pregnancy is associated with many physical changes that may temporarily affect the psychic balance.

There is no shame in having these symptoms. I emphasize this so that you will be encouraged to speak about it openly to your husband and, with his help, seek the guidance of a psychologist or psychiatrist.

Very often it takes little time to help you readjust to your normal pattern of living.

You must not feel any sense of inadequacy because this so-called complication of a normal pregnancy happened to you.

What is the normal pulse rate for an adult?

Mr. S. L., Va.

The pulse rate, which is identical with the regular heart beat, varies between 65 and 75 beats per minute in a normal healthy man.

On this date:

In 1643, the French explorer, Robert de la Salle, was born.

In 1774, the founder of the British empire in India, Lord Clive died.

In 1890, the French statesman, Charles de Gaulle, was born in Lille, France.

In 1941, during World War II, the Germans captured the Russian city of Rostov.

In 1943, a wartime conference in Cairo was attended by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Ten years ago: The U.N. General Assembly called on the United States and the Soviet Union to work out a formula for complete disarmament.

Five years ago: French spokesmen declared that the admission of Communist China to the United Nations was essential to peace in Asia.

One year ago: The government of Guinea said it was under attack by mercenaries supported by Portugal.

J. W. Vickers of Kennewick,

Washington, was a weekend guest of William Rader, of Jackson Twp. Vickers and Rader were together from 1898 to 1915, the first two years in the United States and the last 15 years in the Philippine Islands. They were first in the army as members of the sixth cavalry and later in the service of the Philippine government.

It was quite a bag for Mrs. Alber Fosnaugh who shot a chicken hawk measuring 50 inches from wingtip to wingtip at her home two miles north of Stoutsville.

During a council meeting, Mr. Crites reported that the citizens asking for the extension of the water mains on York St. were not willing to assist in laying the pipes, so the committee had nothing further to report at that time.

Ex-sheriff Henry W. Schleich died at his home in Monroe Twp. at the age of 59 suffering from pernicious leukemia. His wife, Martha Thompson Schleich, had died a month earlier at their Columbus home, so the former sheriff and Monroe Twp. school board member returned to his former home. He had served on the school board for 12 years and had been county sheriff for two terms beginning 1904.

Frank Hoffman, of N. Court St., met with a severe accident at his home. He was in the act of placing a hog in a pen when the animal suddenly turned and knocked him down, tearing the ligaments of his left leg.

Local residents joined together for a performance of "Miss Bob White", a comic opera, at the Grand theatre. Included in the cast were: Frank Howard as Lord Bashful — an ardent fox hunter, Mack Parrett as Rodd, a Quaker farmer, Phillis Lilly as his daughter Goldenrod, Fred Wittich as Jack — a farmer lad and American sailor, Milton Friedman as Van Million, a companion to millionaire Billion, forced to become a tramp, George Miller was O'Yankemin, the village policeman and Mary Pickens was "Bob White" a young society belle. It was sponsored by Circleville BPOE.

Black Political Convention To Pose Many Problems

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Clenched black-power fists shot into the air and smiles broke out all over the room when black members of the House of Representatives announced they were calling a national black political convention.

It will be a historic first, people kept saying. Never before in the 352-year history of black America, slave or free, has there been such a convention. The Saturday night announcement raised two questions:

—Would this turn out to be the first step toward formation of a national black political party?

—Was the cooperation that has begun between mainstream black politicians and the black-nationalist community in the urban centers finally being extended to a national level?

The convening document specifically included "the national black community" in a group set up to meet before Christmas.

U.S. Prison Reformation Said Needed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Ohio's Corrections Commissioner Bennett Cooper warned Sunday that America's prisons must reform their racial attitudes or "lose the battle" with rising militancy.

"Prison systems have been more bigoted, more prejudiced, more discriminatory," than society at large, said Cooper, who is black.

Speaking at a seminar of the Florida Division of Corrections, Cooper said prison systems must accelerate employment and promotion of blacks, even if it sometimes means "getting around" the nominal requirements of civil service laws.

But Division of Corrections personnel officer Jim Ball said he did not think a commitment to minority employment was a license to "have a reverse discriminatory process and discriminate against whites in favor of blacks."

Cooper denied that his suggestions were "discrimination in reverse" and said "a good personnel practice ties in with the objectives of the system."

Prisons inherit "these people the power structure doesn't want to work with and assist into the mainstream of American life," Cooper added.

He said that America sends to prison mostly the "unskilled persons, the uneducated, the poor, and those with some degree of mental impairment."

"Those who come to prison see affluent people committing crimes of just as heinous a nature, and in a sense getting away with it... Our job becomes an almost impossible one. If we're honest we have to say that," Cooper said.

mas to work out convention mechanics. Two other categories were mentioned, "local elected officials," and "community organization leaders." The House members said the convention will be in April or May.

One member of the subcommittee that wrote the call was poet-playwright Imamu Baraka, the politically active Newark black nationalist formerly known as LeRoi Jones.

The convention call climaxed two days of open workshops and closed strategy sessions for about 200 black elected officials and political activists.

The closing speeches, which stopped just short of calling for a black nation, seemed to contrast sharply with those at the other minorities, poor whites, beginning, which dwelt on the need to coalitions with white beginning, which dwelt on the need to build coalitions with other minorities, poor whites, women and the young.

But a number of black political strategists who spent much of the two days locked in private debate, argued that the differences were more apparent than real.

In his keynote address Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, spoke of coalition politics:

"We must create an all-out strategy to improve the quality of life for minorities wherever they may live," he said, adding that any "national black agenda" should provide "a united, single approach around the issues that bear upon black brown, red, poor and disadvantaged people in this country."

Similar themes were repeated many times in workshops on health and housing, child care and political strategy. But others offered variations.

"We must put the interests of our group before the interests of others," said Rep. William Clay, D-Mo. And Texas State Sen. Barbara Jordan, noting that "the old coalitions began to fall apart in the 60s," said any new coalitions "will be different in form, different in style, but will relate to us and our blackness."

Economist Raps Nixon's Phase 2 Plan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — President Nixon's new economic policy will cause living costs to soar rather than curb inflation, a longtime economist said here Sunday.

Victor Perlo, former economist in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration and currently chairman of the National Economic Committee for the Communist party, made his remarks at a small gathering in suburban Cleveland Heights.

"Dollar devaluation, the import surtax and the deficit will all make living costs go up faster," Perlo said, "regardless of what the rigged official consumer price index shows."

Contributing to the inflation, Perlo said, were militarism in general, the war in Vietnam, the $32 billion federal deficit, the record growth of the monopoly power and the "big business policy to reduce labor's real income and increase profits through systematic price increases."

Perlo said Nixon is wrong in blaming price increases on wage hikes, pointing out that the workers' share of production decreased by 40 per cent between 1946 and 1969 and that to restore their lost share would require an immediate wage increase of $2.30 an hour.

Perlo predicted that West European countries and Japan would no longer "buckle under" to Nixon's efforts to have them finance "his aggression in Indochina, the network of U.S. military bases and U.S. corporate giants' establishment of runaway shops in other lands."

Peacemakers Fly To Cairo

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Presidents Leopold Senghor of Senegal and Yakubu Gowon of Nigeria flew to Cairo today on the second part of their mission as Middle East Mediators on behalf of the Organization of African Unity.

They are bringing peace proposals drawn up last week in Dakar at a special meeting of the OAU's 10-nation Commission on the Middle East Crisis. The two leaders will present the proposals to the Egyptians today and then to the Israelis in Jerusalem on Tuesday.

Senghor, Gowon and two other African presidents conferred with Egyptian and Israeli leaders earlier this month. They were reported then to favor another try at mediation by U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring.

They will wind up their mission with a trip to Mauritania Wednesday to report to President Moktar Ould Daddan, the OAU chairman, Daddan in turn will brief U.N. Secretary General U Thant on the organization's findings.

YOUTH KILLED IN AUTO CRASH; SLAYING SUSPECT

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — Charles D. Cottrell III, whose father and step-mother were shot last week and who police said was a suspect in their murders, died Sunday when the car he was driving smashed into a tree at high speed.

"Even if we didn't know of the circumstances in Charleston," Knox County Sheriff's Deputy Paul Rowe said, "we would have to consider it deliberate."

Rowe said the car, registered in Cottrell's father's name, was doing an estimated 100 miles per hour and that there were no skid marks before the car struck the tree "square between the headlights at a terrific rate of speed."

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Police Chief Lawrence Morris Sunday confirmed that Cottrell, a 21-year-old West Virginia University senior, was a suspect in the shootings.

"In fact," Morris said, "Lt. Arlie Robinson (chief of detectives) and his men had narrowed the field of suspects to him."

Dr. and Mrs. Cottrell were each shot four times Monday night with a .22 calibre weapon as they sat in the den of their home. Police said there was no sign of forced entry and no evidence of a struggle. A .22 calibre revolver that police said young Cottrell kept in a holster in his closet was missing and has not been found.

Morris said Lt. Robinson, several detectives, a pathologist and a representative of the Kanawha County prosecuting attorney's office left for Mount Vernon as soon as word was received of the crash.

FERRY SINKS; MANY DEAD

MANILA (AP) — An inter-island ferry with 200 persons aboard sank Sunday night between Leyte and Cebu islands, the Cebu Command of the Philippine Constabulary reported, and only one survivor has been reported found.

The Coast Guard sent two ships to search for survivors.

The Manila Evening News reported that one man had drifted ashore on a plank.

The ferry, the Beethoven II, left Palompon, on Leyte, at 9 p.m. Sunday for its 25-mile run across the Camotes sea to Cebu, on Cebu. It apparently ran into rough weather, and the News said it sank between the islands of Capitanillo and Calangaman.

The paper reported that most of the passengers were students returning to schools on Cebu after spending the weekend at home.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Michigan counterfeiting suspects and two go go dancers were scheduled for arraignment today before a U.S. Magistrate on charges of possessing $500,000 in counterfeit currency.

The four were arrested in a raid Friday by federal and local officers in a house in the Hartwell section. Officers also seized a printing press, plates, negatives, a machine gun and other arms.

The suspects were identified as Christopher Glumb, about 35, and Bernard Dickman, 37, both escapees from a Detroit, Mich. jail. Dorothy Lamb, 24, and Doris Smith, 22, both of Cincinnati, were employed as dancers at the Blue Fox Lounge in the Roselawn section.

Glumb, with an IQ of 158, is considered a disguise and escape artist, police said.

He escaped from a Dallas, Texas, jail in May, 1971, and the Wayne County Jail in Detroit a month later. Dickman escaped the Detroit jail in July, 1971.

Explosion Tilts 85-Foot Silo

CINCINNATI (AP) — A guard remained around the site of a tilted silo at a granary in suburban Evendale today following an explosion Sunday night that slightly injured three firemen and a construction worker.

Fire Chief Edward Gassett said the 85-foot steel structure rose off its moorings when a fire caused some oxygen tanks to explode. He said the fire was started by a welding torch spark on spilled oil inside the tank which was under construction.

The silo was being built at the Central Soya Co.

By RHONDA WILCOXON, JANET GULICK and DONNA BROWN

All who think we will have a great basketball season this year, stomp your feet.

Karl, are you late for English class all of the time?

Jim, are you upset because you did your first homework paper?

If everyone walked one way in the halls, it would not be so confusing would it?

Wonder if The Heard, the band that played at the dance last Friday night, could hear what they were playing?

Anyone who finds a pair of black and white saddles, please give them to Pam.

Janice, the halls aren't race tracks you know.

Jim, do you really curl your hair?

Mr. Kidwell, what is the name of that after-shave lotion you're wearing?

Miss Warner, explain to us how to play volleyball for the ninth time so we won't forget.

Welcome Is Given Two Students

By CONNIE CATRON
Teays Valley's Sophomore Class has gained another new member — Fred McCutcheon.

When asked how he felt about the school, he said, "It's all right, but I don't like some of the rules, like hair for instance. There should be more than three minutes between classes. I like the hours."

In his spare time, Fred works at a Wheatstone Convalescent Center.

His favorite food is steak; his favorite sports are baseball and football; his favorite color is purple; and his favorite song is "Paranoid" by Black Sabbath.

Fred thinks people at Teays Valley are friendly. He says the school spirit is good.

"At first I didn't want to move, but now that I'm here I like it. The only trouble is we might be moving soon!"

By ESTILL SALYERS
Steve Gregory, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregory, Route 3, Circleville, is a new freshman at Teays Valley this year.

Viking Spirit

By RHONDA WILCOXON, JANET GULICK and DONNA BROWN

All who think we will have a great basketball season this year, stomp your feet.

Karl, are you late for English class all of the time?

Jim, are you upset because you did your first homework paper?

If everyone walked one way in the halls, it would not be so confusing would it?

Wonder if The Heard, the band that played at the dance last Friday night, could hear what they were playing?

Anyone who finds a pair of black and white saddles, please give them to Pam.

Janice, the halls aren't race tracks you know.

Jim, do you really curl your hair?

Mr. Kidwell, what is the name of that after-shave lotion you're wearing?

Miss Warner, explain to us how to play volleyball for the ninth time so we won't forget.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Spend more time studying new deals that are of a private nature so that you know exactly what to do. Making better plans for the future is wise. Show that you have ability.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will be quick to understand new inventions, ideas and thoughts, and can become a leader of people along pacifist lines. For that reason your youngster would do well in whatever has to do with the humanities, public works or the ministry. Teach early not to jump to quick conclusions and then problem-solving qualities can be employed.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Arctic Air Enters U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blast of icy arctic air sent shivers through the nation's midsection today as temperatures plummeted to the freezing mark and more than six inches of snow blanketed parts of the Great Lakes region.

Snow fell along the western shore of Lake Michigan and from northeastern Ohio to western New York. The Northeast also was covered with white.

Mild and more tranquil weather was the rule in the West with showers dampening the Southern Plains and the Pacific Northwest.

Fair and pleasant conditions prevailed in the south of Texas and Florida.

BETTY BROWN'S HOMEMAKER TALK

TURKEY TALK
Now is the time to be thinking about ordering your holiday turkey. Whether you buy a fresh or frozen turkey the following guide will help you select the right size and type for your needs.

HOW MUCH TO BUY
When buying whole ready-to-cook turkeys under 12 pounds, allow ¾ to 1 pound per serving. For larger birds allow ½ to ¾ pounds. With un-cooked boneless turkey roasts allow 1/3 pound per serving. In most cases, large turkeys are more economical than the smaller birds and are excellent for use in future meals.

THAWING AND STORAGE
FROZEN TURKEYS: Turkeys frozen with neck and giblets inside the body and neck cavities need to be thawed before cooking. When turkey is thawed, remove neck and giblets, cook them promptly and refrigerate.

The method of thawing used will depend on amount of time and space that is available.

a) Thawing in refrigerator - Place turkey, still in its original wrap, on tray or drip pan. Place in refrigerator to thaw.

b) Thawing in cool or cold water - Place turkey, still in its original wrap, in sink covered with cool or cold water. Change water often to hasten thawing.

c) Thawing at room temperature - Leave in original wrap and place frozen turkey in brown paper bag, or wrap in 2 or 3 layers of newspapers. Place on tray in baking pan and allow to thaw at room temperature. Thaw until turkey is pliable and neck and giblets can be removed easily. Cook turkey immediately.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the official weather bureau summary for Ohio from the National Weather Service:

Heavy snow has fallen in parts of northeastern Ohio from points along the lake to south of the traditional snow belt. Early morning reports today indicated from four to 12 inches on the ground in an area extending from southern Cuyahoga County and northern Summit County through Portage and Trumbull counties to the Pennsylvania line.

Some snow amounts in this area include 12 inches at Kent, eight inches at Stow, six inches at Youngstown airport and four inches at Brecksville. Reports from Geauga and Ashtabula counties indicate about one to two inches of snow on the ground.

An additional two to four inches of snow is likely in some parts of the northeast today while elsewhere across the state light flurries are in prospect.

Early morning temperatures were confined to the 20s due to a massive cold high pressure system over the nation's central states. The early readings ranged from 29 at Cleveland to 20 at Toledo. The mercury is not expected to reach above the freezing point anywhere in the state today, and will drop back into the low 20s tonight.

Temperatures will moderate Tuesday with highs in the mid 30s as the extensive high pressure system passes through the state.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Windy with snow flurries and occasional heavy snow squalls northeast, variable cloudiness with a chance of snow flurries elsewhere and cold today, highs in the upper 20s and low 30s. Partly cloudy and cold tonight with a chance of snow flurries northeast, lows in the upper teens and low 20s. Partly cloudy and not quite as cold Tuesday, highs in the 30s.

highs in the upper 20s. Partly cloudy and cold tonight and Tuesday. Lows tonight in the upper teens and low 20s. Highs Tuesday around 30. Probability of precipitation 30 per cent today, 10 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Tuesday.

EAST LAKE SHORE and NORTHEAST INLAND — Mostly cloudy, windy and cold with snow flurries and occasional heavy snow squalls today, additional accumulations locally 2 to 4 inches likely. Highs today in the upper 30s. Mostly cloudy and cold with a chance of snow flurries tonight, lows in the upper teens and low 20s. Partly cloudy and cold Tuesday, highs near 30. Probability of precipitation decreasing to 50 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Tuesday.

WEST CENTRAL and SOUTHWEST — Partly cloudy and cold with a chance of snow flurries today, highs in the lower 30s. Clearing and cold tonight, lows in the low 20s. Mostly sunny and not quite as cold Tuesday, highs in the mid and upper 30s. Probability of precipitation 30 per cent today, 10 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Tuesday.

Views On TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The changing structure of the Democratic party was outlined Sunday in NBC's public affairs special, "The Loyal Opposition."

Three congressmen and three party workers discussed radical reforms planned for the party's convention in Miami next summer.

Talk concentrated on changes instituted by a party reform commission, especially new convention rules designed to result in a completely open convention and greater representation for women, minority groups and young people.

It was mostly frank intelligent political talk with campaign-type exhortations kept at a minimum.

Rep. James O'Hara of Michigan, chairman of the reform commission, promised television viewers that there would be "fewer dull speeches," sharp time limitations on nominating and seconding speeches and elimination of "phony demonstrations."

CBS broadcast the first in a series of historical re-enactments called "Appointment With Destiny" on Friday night. With all of recorded history to draw upon, the series premiered with "The Last Days Of John Dillinger," a midwestern badman of the early 1930s.

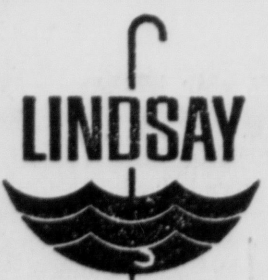

Between now and April the series will have specials about the abortive plot to assassinate Hitler, Wyatt Earp's shootout at the O.K. Corral, the crucifixion and the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox.

The method of handling the subject matter in the first program was curious. Meticulous research was involved.

The actor who played FBI Agent Melvin Purvis, for instance, dressed for the final shootout with Dillinger in white trousers, blue jacket and straw hat that were discussed in newspaper accounts of the day.

NBC, also on Friday night, showed its "World Premiere," which had all the earmarks of a pilot for a future series—another go-around with Ellery Queen, an elegant amateurish sleuth of many novels.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the official weather bureau summary for Ohio from the National Weather Service:

Heavy snow has fallen in parts of northeastern Ohio from points along the lake to south of the traditional snow belt. Early morning reports today indicated from four to 12 inches of the ground in an area extending from southern Cuyahoga County and northern Summit County through Portage and Trumbull counties to the Pennsylvania line.

Some snow amounts in this area include 12 inches at Kent, eight inches at Stow, six inches at Youngstown airport and four inches at Brecksville. Reports from Geauga and Ashtabula counties indicate about one to two inches of snow on the ground.

An additional two to four inches of snow is likely in some parts of the northeast today while elsewhere across the state light flurries are in prospect.

Early morning temperatures were confined to the 20s due to a massive cold high pressure system over the nation's central states. The early readings ranged from 29 at Cleveland to 20 at Toledo. The mercury is not expected to reach above the freezing point anywhere in the state today, and will drop back into the low 20s tonight.

Temperatures will moderate Tuesday with highs in the mid 30s as the extensive high pressure system passes through the state.

Views On TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The changing structure of the Democratic party was outlined Sunday in NBC's public affairs special, "The Loyal Opposition."

Three congressmen and three party workers discussed radical reforms planned for the party's convention in Miami next summer.

Talk concentrated on changes instituted by a party reform commission, especially new convention rules designed to result in a completely open convention and greater representation for women, minority groups and young people.

It was mostly frank intelligent political talk with campaign-type exhortations kept at a minimum.

Rep. James O'Hara of Michigan, chairman of the reform commission, promised television viewers that there would be "fewer dull speeches," sharp time limitations on nominating and seconding speeches and elimination of "phony demonstrations."

CBS broadcast the first in a series of historical re-enactments called "Appointment With Destiny" on Friday night. With all of recorded history to draw upon, the series premiered with "The Last Days of John Dillinger," a midwestern badman of the early 1930s.

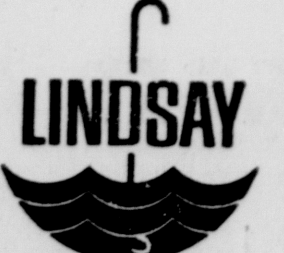

Between now and April the series will have specials about the abortive plot to assassinate Hitler, Wyatt Earp's shootout at the O.K. Corral, the crucifixion and the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox.

The method of handling the subject matter in the first program was curious. Meticulous research was involved.

The actor who played FBI Agent Melvin Purvis, for instance, dressed for the final shootout with Dillinger in white trousers, blue jacket and straw hat that were discussed in newspaper accounts of the day.

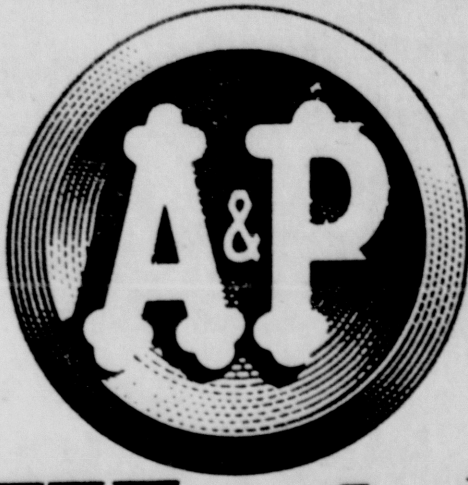

NBC, also on Friday night, showed its "World Premiere," which had all the earmarks of a pilot for a future series—an other go-around with Ellery Queen, an elegant amateur sleuth of many novels.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Handwriting 'Analysis' Upsets Her

DEAR ABBY: I recently wrote a short note to a woman I know slightly, asking for some information on her solicitations for symphony subscriptions. A few days later, I received a two paged "analysis" of my handwriting, and I have been fuming ever since!

In the first place, I don't know whether this woman has had any special training, or if she's an amateur who analyzes handwriting for a hobby, but some of her "observations" were downright insulting!

Example: "Your love life leaves much to be desired, but it could be greatly improved if you would get over some of your old-fashioned, puritanical ideas."

Also, "You are much too timid. Stand up to your husband when you think he is wrong. He will respect you for it."

Abby, if you have any suggestions on how to handle this, I would appreciate it. I want nothing more to do with this woman.

STILL FUMING

DEAR FUMING: TYPE a note to her and tell her that YOU have "analyzed" HER handwriting, and have concluded that she would have more friends if she'd quit "analyzing" handwriting.

DEAR ABBY: All my life I've been afraid of dogs. Not just big dogs. I am afraid of the smallest dog. I can't help it. Dogs have always terrified me.

My sister and her husband invited my husband and me to visit them for a weekend, and since they know how much I fear dogs, I thought surely they would lock up their dog but they didn't.

When we got there and I saw their dog roaming around the house I became hysterical and caused a terrible scene. I screamed and carried on, and ran upstairs and locked myself in the bathroom.

My husband came up shortly afterwards and said "We will go home now." And we did.

Abby I feel so terrible over this. When my sister and her husband have visited us they always tied their dog to a pole outside or locked him in the basement to keep him away from me.

Please tell me if I should write and apologize for the way I acted. I am 66 years old.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: If it will make you feel any better write and apologize. But in my view they owe YOU an apology for having exposed you to their dog knowing how you fear dogs.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have boys 15 months and three months. We were overwhelmed with joy when our first child was born. We had prayed for a boy and we got one.

Before I knew it I was carrying our second child. The problem is the second boy is completely opposite from our first. He cries all the time for no apparent reason and we can't keep him on any kind of schedule.

I sometimes find myself regretting we ever had him. We both desperately wanted a little girl and I don't seem able to love him as I do the older boy.

I keep thinking the most horrible thoughts like secretly wishing something would happen to him so we wouldn't be bothered with him anymore. Yet I know if something were to happen to him I'd never be able to forgive myself because of my secret thoughts.

My husband doesn't know how I feel. Nobody does. Do you think I ought to see a doctor?

CONFUSED AND FEELING DEAR CONFUSED: I certainly do. And I urge you to see him quickly.

CONFIDENTIAL TO L.L.: The proof of the pudding is not always in the eating. It's whether the diner comes back for seconds. A lot of mediocre pudding has been consumed because there was nothing else on the menu.

Tokyo Most Populous, Data Shows

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Tokyo has more people living within its city limits and in its suburbs than any other city in the world, a U.N. publication reported Monday.

The new issue of the U.N. Demographic Yearbook, an 830-page collection of figures analyzing population trends, listed New York as second behind Tokyo in both city and suburban residents.

The most recent count showed Tokyo with 9,005,000 residents in its "city proper," the yearbook states, compared to 7,793,757 for New York City.

If the suburbs are added, Tokyo comes out ahead with 11,454,000 inhabitants compared with 11,448,440 for New York suburbs in New York State.

If the New York suburbs in northeastern New Jersey are included, the total becomes 16,037,395. But a metropolitan area around Tokyo with less than one-third the amount of space, had 20,485,542 inhabitants at last count.

A list of the five largest cities shows London in third place with 7,703,400 residents. Moscow fourth with 6,942,000 and Shanghai fifth with 6,900,000.

Ohio Highway Toll Reaches 19

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's streets and highways claimed 19 victims over the latest weekend period, boosting the state's weekend death count alone for the year to 811.

The dead included five pedestrians and a motorcyclist. Two were killed in car-train accidents.

Two double fatality crashes — one late Friday involving two 16-year-old Hubbard youths; the other in Brown County Saturday — helped swell the death toll for the 54-hour period.

Since the start of the year an average of 18 people each weekend in Ohio have died in traffic mishaps.

Prison Mail Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chief administrators of two Ohio prisons say liberalized mailing privileges for inmates ordered by Gov. John J. Gilligan may be creating problems.

Gilligan lifted censorship of prisoners' mail last August along with restrictions on the number of letters prisoners can send and with whom they are allowed to correspond.

"I am deeply distressed about the pen pal type of correspondence that is going on between our women here and the men in other institutions," said Martha Wheeler, superintendent of the state Reformatory for Women in Marysville.

"It only serves to undermine their therapy and reinforce an identification with losers," she said.

Miss Wheeler said the volume of incoming mail since Gilligan's order has jumped from 40 to nearly 500 pieces daily, more than half from male prisoners, mostly from the Ohio Penitentiary here.

Penitentiary warden Harold Cardwell said the increased mail also creates problems in Columbus.

"Our biggest concern is that we may have trouble between men who are writing to or getting letters from the same women," he said. "I've already had a couple of complaints about men who say another prisoner has written to a woman they are writing to, saying derogatory things about them."

SANTA ARRIVES FRIDAY 1 P.M.

Tiger Cagers Have Experience But Lack Height

Three returning starters from last year's South Central Ohio League championship team and a strong bench carry Circleville's hopes for a successful basketball season and another league title.

Terry Morrison, Don Valentine and Dave Truex will provide experience and strength to the club but Coach John Lawhorn will have to come up with replacements for guard Tom Bowers and center John Hunt who have graduated.

The Tigers will lack size and the big question will be how well they can do on the boards and how effective they will be in controlling the big centers and forwards of the opposition.

Aggressiveness, strong defense and good shooting will be the Tigers answer to their lack of height and they should be an exciting club to watch.

IF the Red and Black can fill the gap at center and one guard position it could be well on its way to another winning season and SCOL crown.

A tough 18-game schedule faces the Tigers who will swing into action Wednesday night when they travel to Chillicothe to take on the tall, tough Cavaliers.

Around the SCOL it appears that Greenfield with four returning starters could be the team to give the Tigers a tussle for their title.

Miami Trace boasts three returning lettermen bolstered by last year's winning reserve team.

For the Blue Lions of Washington C.H. it should be a rebuilding year as they lost their entire starting unit through graduation.

The Wilmington Hurricane is in the same boat as the Blue Lions due to the departure of last year's starting unit.

HILLSBORO could be the darkhorse in the league if Don Jewett, injured in an automobile accident last year, returns to action. The Indians have one starter back and a fine crop of juniors from the reserve team. Seniors Morrison and Valentine will be co-captains of the 1971-72 Tigers.

The 14-man squad will be comprised of seven seniors, six juniors and one sophomore.

The following seniors will be donning the Red and Black for their final campaign.

Terry Morrison, 5-foot-9 guard. An excellent ball handler and deadly shooter, he will direct the Tigers offense and break break attack. An all-league selection last year, Morrison will provide team leadership.

Don Valentine, 6-foot forward. He provides strength on the boards and should be an improved scorer.

Randy Sprout, 5-foot-11 forward. He is small for a forward but does a good job of checking out on the boards. Sprout has improved his defensive play and should provide depth to the squad.

Kent Wolfe, 6-foot-1 forward, center. He has speed, jumping ability and is a good shooter. Could gain a starting berth.

David Grigg, 6-foot-5 center. He is the tallest member of the squad and has great attitude.

Mike Hamrick, 6-foot forward, center. He is one of the hardest workers on the squad and a great competitor. An improved shooter with fine defensive ability, Hamrick has to be considered for a starting berth.

Jim Neal, 5-foot-9 guard. One of the best defensive players on the team, Neal will make a strong bid for a starting guard position.

Junior members of the squad are:

Tim Burns, 6-foot forward. Up from last year's reserve squad, he is one of the most improved members on the team.

Scott Clifton, 6-foot-2 center. He has developed both offensively and defensively and could be leading contender for the center spot.

Glen Gillespie, 5-foot-9 guard. An improved ball player, he will bring quickness to the club.

Dan Graham, 6-foot-1 forward. Leading scorer on last year's reserve team, he has been working hard on defense and will give depth to the team.

most of last season with a knee injury. Hoskins will provide good shooting and ball handling.

Dave Truex, 6-foot forward. Strong, physical player with good shooting and passing, Truex was top defensive player on last year's squad.

Dave Mehalick, 5-foot-10 guard, is the only sophomore member of the Tiger varsity. A good shooter and ball handler, he will be battling for the guard berth vacated by Tom Bowers.

Coach Dennis Stewart will handle a reserve squad comprised of Steve Allen, Don Goeller, Mark Hang, J. C. Timberlake, John Ankrom, Kris Kline, Robin Martin, Robin Ott, Doug Radabaugh, Andy Rhoads, Jim Sprout and Kevin Woods.

Darryl Young will coach the freshmen cagers with Jim Diltz handling the junior high boys.

Here is the complete Circleville schedule:

Westfall Downs Millersport For First Season Win, 82-68

A 40-point barrage by Bruce Beatty and a strong second half gave the Westfall Mustangs an 82-68 win over Millersport Saturday night on the Lakers' court.

Westfall was outscored from the field, 25-24, but took advantage of fouls on the part of the Lakers to net 34 charity tosses.

Millersport could not contain the quick Mustangs and was forced into a fouling situation. The Lakers lost three cagers via the foul route and three others had four personals.

Beatty had 14 buckets from the hardwood and added 12 from the free throw line to lead all cagers.

LARRY Harris added 15 markers, Doug McKay had 11, Mike Peterson five, John Valone and Tom Cook had three apiece and Scott Riddle added two to the Mustangs' total.

Thomas led Millersport with 19 tallies, Belt had 15, Jeffers 14, Brookhaver 11, Alexander seven and Whetstone two.

Harris and Peterson led the battle of the rebounds and controlled the boards for the Mustangs.

Westfall could not get untracked in the first period and trailed the Lakers, 18-14 at the buzzer.

The Mustangs began to move in the second canto and picked up a 33-32 lead at halftime.

The Scarlet and Gray tallied 23 points in the third stanza while limiting Millersport to 15 to gain a 56-49 margin at the end of the period.

THEY continued to hit the nets in the final frame outscoring the Lakers 26 to 19 to gain the victory.

The Westfall reserves put up a strong battle before dropping a 43-40 decision to the Millersport reserves.

Westfall is now 1-1 for the season and will be at Hamilton Township Friday night and at Circleville on Saturday.

Virgil Carter Reason For Bengals Win

CINNATI (AP) — Paul Brown has put new wrinkles in his Cincinnati offense, but it's an old hand who has the Bengals back on the winning beam.

"He shows everybody out there who's boss," Bob Trumpy said of Virgil Carter Sunday after the veteran quarterback directed the Bengals to a 28-13 National Football League victory of the Houston Oilers.

Carter threw two touchdown passes and completed 12 of 15 for 143 yards, but other items impressed Brown and Houston mentor Ed Hughes.

"Virgil checked off on both of his touchdown passes," said Brown. Carter tossed scoring strikes of six yards to Bruce Coslet and 31 yards to Bob Trumpy, both on audible calls at the line of scrimmage.

"It's never been any secret about our collapse. Carter is the success of our club," said Brown.

When Carter separated a shoulder against Green Bay, Cincinnati lost all four games without him, prolonging its losing streak to seven games. Virg has been back for the last two games. The Bengals have won both.

"Carter was the difference in the game," said Hughes, who's team trimmed Cincinnati 10-6 three weeks ago without Carter. "He read our blitzes very well."

To get more punch in the Bengals attack, Brown switched the 6-foot-6, 228-pound Trumpy to wide receiver. The former tight end caught five passes for 87 yards in his new spot.

And the veteran Cincinnati mentor inserted big running backs Fred Willis, a rookie, and second-year man Doug Dressler into the lineup.

Blame Front Court For Loss By Cavs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I can alibi a little about the defense of the young guys in the back court," said Cleveland Cavaliers head Bill Fitch, "but, I can't do the same for the guys in the front court."

And that was the way Fitch explained a 128-105 loss to the Boston Celtics Sunday in a game that saw the debut of Butch Beard and Austin Carr as starting guards.

Beard scored 21 and Carr 19 to pace the Cleveland scoring, while Celtics captain John Havlicek connected on 16-12 shots for 36 points and guard Jo Jo White added 33 for Boston.

Kent Wolfe, 6-foot-1 forward, center. He has speed, jumping ability and is a good shooter. Could gain a starting berth.

David Grigg, 6-foot-5 center. He is the tallest member of the squad and has great attitude.

Mike Hamrick, 6-foot forward, center. He is one of the hardest workers on the squad and a great competitor. An improved shooter with fine defensive ability, Hamrick has to be considered for a starting berth.

Jim Neal, 5-foot-9 guard. One of the best defensive players on the team, Neal will make a strong bid for a starting guard position.

Junior members of the squad are:

Tim Burns, 6-foot forward. Up from last year's reserve squad, he is one of the most improved members on the team.

Scott Clifton, 6-foot-2 center. He has developed both offensively and defensively and could be leading contender for the center spot.

Glen Gillespie, 5-foot-9 guard. An improved ball player, he will bring quickness to the club.

Dan Graham, 6-foot-1 forward. Leading scorer on last year's reserve team, he has been working hard on defense and will give depth to the team.

most of last season with a knee injury. Hoskins will provide good shooting and ball handling. Dave Truex, 6-foot forward. Strong, physical player with good shooting and passing. Truex was top defensive player on last year's squad.

Dave Mehalick, 5-foot-10 guard, is the only sophomore member of the Tiger varsity. A good shooter and ball handler, he will be battling for the guard berth vacated by Tom Bowers.

Coach Dennis Stewart will handle a reserve squad comprised of Steve Allen, Don Goeller, Mark Hang, J. C. Timberlake, John Ankrom, Kris Kline, Robin Martin, Robin Ott, Doug Radabaugh, Andy Rhoads, Jim Sprout and Kevin Woods.

Darryl Young will coach the freshmen cagers with Jim Diltz handling the junior high boys.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gerald Inbody of Athens and Bob Bruney of Ironton, whose teams tied for a league championship, and Ed Miller of Portsmouth Notre Dame are The Associated Press Southeastern District high school football coaches of the year. Inbody, who produced a 9-1 record and a share of the Southeastern Ohio League title with Ironton, was named the area Class AAA top mentor by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Bruney, coaching Ironton to a 9-1 mark, collected the Class AA district coach of the year award.

Miller, despite a season-closing 20-8 loss to Newark Catholic, was voted the leading Class A coach after a 9-1 record that included 23 straight triumphs until the Newark setback.

Mark Burke, 6-foot-1, 190-pound Marietta halfback, was selected the Southeastern back of the year in Class AAA after rolling up more than 1,000 yards.

The Class AAA area lineman of the year was Al Ackerman of Athens, a 6-foot, 223-pound senior tackle who played both ways for the Bulldogs.

Ironton quarterback Hal Spears, who completed 50 of 80 passes for 845 yards and 10 touchdowns in the Southeastern Ohio League, earned Class AA back of the year honors.

Chuck Woods of Gallipolis, 6-1, 210-pound senior tackle, gained the Class AA lineman of the year award.

In Class A, Dwight Pettiford of Frankfort Adena was the top back and Alan Holter, 6-3, 200-pound senior tackle from Meigs Eastern, the No. 1 lineman.

Pettiford covered more than 3,900 yards in four years, including 1,458 yards and a 10.27 per rush average this fall.

Logan Elm Holds Football Banquet

Logan Elm varsity, reserve and junior high football players, cheerleaders and managers were honored Saturday at the annual grid banquet held in the George McDowell Exchange School.

At the banquet it was announced that this year's players inaugurated the John Weaver Memorial Tower fund. A total of $30 was donated in the name of the late John Weaver, who was killed in an automobile accident this fall.

Weaver, who graduated in May from LEHS was a 4-year member of the LE football team.

Funds will be used to build a tower to house the Logan Elm victory bell.

Head coach Bob Stant of the Braves said that a total of 29 gridlers lettered this year for the Braves. In addition to the varsity letters and medals, six special awards were announced by the coaches.

BRAD BARR, a senior tackle who was the only member of the Braves to make the All Scioto Valley Conference team, received the Varsity Club trophy for being the most dedicated player on the team. He also was named the most valuable offensive lineman.

Dennis Schaaf, a senior guard, received the trophy for being the team's most improved player.

The most valuable defensive lineman award went to Dan Phillips, a senior defensive end credited with 34 tackles during the season, the most for an LE lineman.

Rod Howard was named the most valuable defensive back. The most valuable offensive back was Punk Jones, who played every backfield position at one time or another during the season in spite of the fact he was twice sidelined with fractured bones in his right hand.

Next year's captains are Mike Williams and Rod Howard.

The invocation and benediction were delivered by Chaplain Paul Pusey, Roger Allen, president of the Booster Club, was master of ceremonies.

The junior high squad was introduced by Coach Harry Hoffer. The junior high posted a 3-2-1 record in its first official interscholastic football season. Cheryl Jordan, junior high cheerleader adviser introduced the seventh and eighth grade cheerleaders.

Reserve coach Steve Barney introduced his team. The reserves posted a 3-3 season. Assisting Stant with the varsity awards presentation were associate coaches Doane Wiggins, and Ray Mowery. The varsity club award was presented by Alex Jones.

Varsity and reserve cheerleaders were introduced by Mrs. Amber Bigam, their adviser.

OU Co-Captains Named For 1972

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University quarterback Dave Juenger and safety Bert Dampier were named co-captains for the Bobcats next year at the team's football banquet Sunday night.

Juenger is from Chillicothe and Dampier hails from Massillon. Both will be seniors next year.

Westfall Downs Millersport For First Season Win, 82-68

A 40-point barrage by Bruce Beatty and a strong second half gave the Westfall Mustangs an 82-68 win over Millersport Saturday night on the Lakers' court.

Westfall was outscored from the field, 25-24, but took advantage of fouls on the part of the Lakers to net 34 charity tosses.

Millersport could not contain the quick Mustangs and was forced into a fouling situation. The Lakers lost three cagers via the foul route and three others had four personals.

Beatty had 14 buckets from the hardwood and added 12 from the free throw line to lead all cagers.

LARRY Harris added 15 markers. Doug McKay had 11, Mike Peterson five, John Valone and Tom Cook had three apiece and Scott Riddle added two to the Mustangs' total.

Virgil Carter Reason For Bengals Win

CINNATI (AP) — Paul Brown has put new wrinkles in his Cincinnati offense, but it's an old hand who has the Bengals back on the winning team.

"He shows everybody out there who's boss," Bob Trumpy said of Virgil Carter Sunday after the veteran quarterback directed the Bengals to a 28-13 National Football League victory of the Houston Oilers.

Carter threw two touchdown passes and completed 12 of 15 for 143 yards, but other items impressed Brown and Houston mentor Ed Hughes.

"Virgil checked off on both of his touchdown passes," said Brown. Carter tossed scoring strikes of six yards to Bruce Coslet and 31 yards to Bob Trumpy, both on audible calls at the line of scrimmage.

"It's never been any secret about our collapse. Carter is the success of our club," said Brown.

When Carter separated a shoulder against Green Bay, Cincinnati lost all four games without him, prolonging its losing streak to seven games. Virg has been back for the last two games. The Bengals have won both.

"Carter was the difference in the game," said Hughes, who's team trimmed Cincinnati 10-6 three weeks ago without Carter. "He read our blitzes very well."

To get more punch in the Bengals attack, Brown switched the 6-foot-6, 228-pound Trumpy to wide receiver. The former tight end caught five passes for 87 yards in his new spot.

And the veteran Cincinnati mentor inserted big running backs Fred Willis, a rookie, and second-year man Doug Dressler into the lineup.

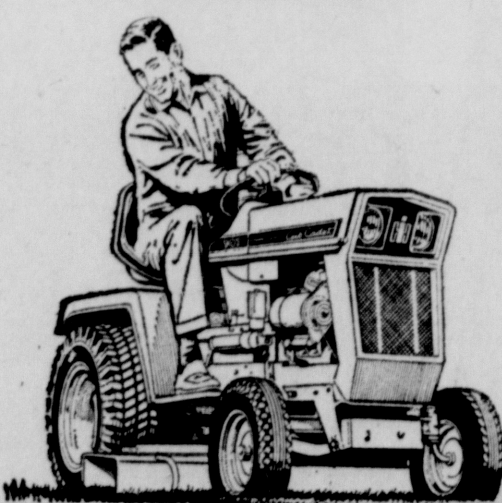

Blame Front Court For Loss By Cavs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I can alibi a little about the defense of the young guys in the back court," said Cleveland Cavaliers head Bill Fitch, "but, I can't do the same for the guys in the front court."

And that was the way Fitch explained a 128-105 loss to the Boston Celtics Sunday in a game that saw the debut of Butch Beard and Austin Carr as starting guards.

Beard scored 21 and Carr 19 to pace the Cleveland scoring, while Celtics captain John Havlicek connected on 16-12 shots for 36 points and guard Jo Jo White added 33 for Boston.

Rockets To Face Richmond In Tangerine Bowl Clash

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jack Murphy likes the idea of his talented array of Toledo football seniors facing another different team in the Tangerine Bowl next month.

"I think it's great for our seniors," said Murphy after Toledo extended the nation's longest streak to 34 victories Saturday night with a 41-6 triumph over visiting Kent State.

"They beat Davidson their first year and William and Mary last season. Now, they get a crack at Richmond," the rookie Rocket mentor said.

Murphy said he will give the Toledo players time off until Dec. 15 when they resume indoor drills for the Dec. 28 date in Orlando against Richmond, which beat William and Mary 21-19 for the other berth Saturday.

In other major tests Saturday, Ohio State lost at Michigan in the final two minutes

10-7, Gary Kosins' three touchdowns sparked a 26-16 Dayton victory over Bowling Green and

Bob Hitchens also scored three times in Miami's 43-7 rout of Cincinnati.

Ohio University's 20-point second quarter sparked the Bobcats past Marshall 30-0 and Byron Florence's 54-yard touchdown run in the third quarter boosted Northern Illinois over Xavier.

Elsewhere, Baldwin-Wallace, finishing 9-1, nipped Ashland 24-17. Central State took a 61-0 beating at Tennessee A&I. Findlay earned a share of the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference title with Anderson, Ind., beating Wilmington 37-20, Akron edged Youngstown State 7-0 and Ohio Northern outscored Georgetown, Ky., 37-7.

Joe Schwartz' five touchdowns for Toledo, a Mid-American one-game record, even surprised Murphy.

"I didn't think he would score that many," said Murphy, whose ace quarterback Chuck Ealey was hampered by a sore shoulder.

"The rest will do all of our kids good," he said. "Ealey will be all right for Richmond."

Schwartz, a junior running back from Adrian, Mich., ran four, 14, 19, nine and one yards, finishing Kent State with an 0-5 conference mark and 3-8 for all games.

Toledo will carry a 11-0 regular season record as well as its third straight Mid-American title against Richmond, 5-5 over-all.

Lakers Trip Milwaukee, Win 112-105

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We did just about everything we could to contain him and thought we did pretty well," Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman said of center Kareem Jabbar.

Well, not quite. The Milwaukee superstar poured in 39 points.

But the Lakers had something going for them, too—Wilt Chamberlain's rebounding and a searing fast break led by Gail Goodrich and Jerry West. And when the running ended in Sunday's night's National Basketball Association game, the Lakers' owned a 112-105 victory over the Bucks.

In other NBA games, Boston belted Cleveland 123-105, Houston overhauled Golden State 115-96 and Seattle turned back Philadelphia 127-117. In the only American Basketball Association game, the Floridians overpowered Memphis 103-86.

In Saturday night NBA action, New York beat Baltimore 125-114, Detroit topped Buffalo 105-96, Atlanta whipped Phoenix 115-109, Chicago downed Boston 123-106, Seattle edged Portland 104-100 and Golden State surprised Milwaukee 107-100.

Pete Liske passed for two touchdowns and the Eagles got two more on fumble recoveries to leapfrog over the Cardinals and out of the NFC East cellar.

Rams, Cowboys Take Grid Leads

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"We're a pretty good football team," said Coach Tom Landry.

"We're still in the race," countered George Allen.

Landry had just watched his Dallas Cowboys vault into the lead in the National Conference East with a 13-0 victory over Washington, regaining the spot they had been pursuing since being knocked off 20-16 by Allen's Redskins seven weeks ago.

But Sunday's triumph wasn't the only thing on Landry's mind. "We're thinking about Thursday," he said. That's when the Cowboys take on the Los Angeles Rams.

The game will be an additional Thanksgiving Day feast for National Football League fans, bringing together a pair of divisional leaders.

The Rams, harrassing quarterback John Brodie all afternoon and limiting potent San Francisco to a pair of field goals, made it a season sweep over the 49ers with a 17-6 triumph that put them atop the NFC West.

In the day's other "big" game—naturally all games in the NFL are big but some are bigger than others—Miami grabbed a bit of breathing room in the American Conference East as Garo Yepremian booted the Dolphins to a 17-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

Around the rest of the league, Kansas City kept on Oakland's heels in the AFC West with a 28-10 victory over Denver while the Raiders were squeezing by San Diego 34-33, Detroit stifled Chicago 28-3, Minnesota beat New Orleans 23-10, Pittsburgh beat the New York Giants 17-13, Cleveland crushed New England 27-7 Cincinnati belted Houston 28-13, the New York Jets whipped Buffalo 20-7 and Philadelphia swatted St. Louis 37-20.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) game, the Green Bay Packers invade Atlanta to take on the Falcons.

"Thirteen points just isn't a great deal by any means—unless the defense is playing like ours," said Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach, who scored the game's only touchdown on a 29-yard scamper the first time the Cowboys got their hands on the ball. Mike Clark got his foot into it twice for 6 and 48-yard field goals.

Brodie threw four interceptions, three of them picked off by Gene Howard. But the other one was the killer, a theft by Jim Nettes who ran it back 29 yards for a touchdown in the final minute of the first half that put the Rams ahead 14-6. Earlier Roman Gabriel had flipped a 13-yard scoring strike to Jack Snow.

"We knew we had the ability to control our own fate," said Dolphins Coach Don Shula, who left the Colts in 1970 to take over at Miami. "But by no means are we in." Baltimore has four games—including another one with the Dolphins on Dec. 11—to wipe out Miami's 1½-game lead.

The Colts scored first on Don Nottingham's four-yard run in the first period. But in the third, the Dolphins bounced in front as Jim Kiick plunged over from one-yard out and Bob Griese hit Marv Fleming with a 10-yard touchdown pass. Before the period was over, though, it was tied again as Norm Bulaich bulled over from the four.

That left it up to Yepremian, whose 20-yard field goal with 6:20 remaining in the game provided Miami with the winning cushion.

The Broncos had hoped to give their new head coach, Jerry Smith, a winning debut—but Len Dawson had other ideas. The Chiefs' quarterback threw for three touchdowns and 294 yards.

Daryle Lamonia also threw for three for the Raiders, outshining the 321-yard aerial display by the Chargers' John Hadl. "We were good to the last play," said Hadl, who had San Diego on the Oakland four-yard line with 1:11 to play, only to have his potential game-winning pass picked off by the Raiders' Dan Conners.

Vikings quarterback Bob Lee, making his first start of the season, and running back Clint

Jones each swept in for four-yard touchdowns and Fred Cox kicked three field goals to turn back the Saints.

Leroy Kelly was the Browns' workhorse, rambling 113 yards on 23 carries and scoring two touchdowns—one on a pass from Bill Nelsen, the other on a one-yard plunge—to tumble the Patriots.

Pete Liske passed for two touchdowns and the Eagles got two more on fumble recoveries to leapfrog over the Cardinals and out of the NFC East cellar.

Hays Mum On Tirade At Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes still isn't talking about his explosion Saturday in the final moments of his Ohio State University Buckeyes' 10-7 loss to Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The Buckeyes were in the midst of a last-ditch drive that might have pulled an upset victory out of the fire for them when Wolverine defensive back Tom Darden intercepted a pass intended for Buckeye end Dick Wakefield.

The play, which snuffed out the last Buckeye hope for a win, ended with Wakefield on the ground, and Hayes obviously felt an interference penalty against the Wolverines was called for.

When there wasn't any penalty called, the angry coach stormed onto the field to berate the officials, who promptly stepped off a 15-yard penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct against Hayes.

Players and assistant coaches finally had to pull the livid Hayes from the field to the sidelines where he kicked a down marker and tore a first down indicator to shreds to the delight of the Michigan fans.

After the final gun Hayes closeted himself in his dressing room refusing to hold his customary press debriefing and even keeping Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan waiting 15 minutes in the hall outside to offer condolences. Assistant coaches Earle Bruce and Chuck Clausen said they thought Wakefield was interfered with and so did Wakefield himself when he appeared on Hayes' weekly television show Saturday night.

Clausen also claimed the Wolverines substituted three players between plays on their own touchdown drive, a violation of the rules, and that again, no penalty was called.

Floridians Stop Memphis, 103-86

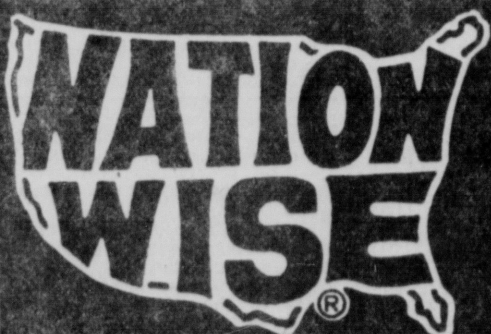

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Rookie Willie Long, Ron Franz and Warren Jabali combined for 61 points Sunday as the Floridians rolled over the Memphis Pros 103-86 in the night's only American Basketball Association contest.

Long led the scoring with 22 points, followed by Franz with 20 and Jabali with 19.

SLANGUAGE — Norm Hawkes didn't know sign language when he became football coach of the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf near Philadelphia. He uses what he calls sign language. He is congratulating Raymond Fox, who has just scored at left. A player at right "talks back" to Hawkes, whose team has a winning record.

Rockets To Face Richmond In Tangerine Bowl Clash

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
Jack Murphy likes the idea of his talented array of Toledo football seniors facing another different team in the Tangerine Bowl next month.

"I think it's great for our seniors," said Murphy after Toledo extended the nation's longest streak to 34 victories Saturday night with a 41-6 triumph over visiting Kent State.

"They beat Davidson their first year and William and Mary last season. Now, they get a crack at Richmond," the rookie Rocket mentor said.

Murphy said he will give the Toledo players time off until Dec. 15 when they resume indoor drills for the Dec. 28 date in Orlando against Richmond, which beat William and Mary 21-19 for the other berth Saturday.

In other major tests Saturday, Ohio State lost at Michigan in the final two minutes

10-7. Gary Kosins' three touchdowns sparked a 26-16 Dayton victory over Bowling Green and

Bob Hitchens also scored three times in Miami's 43-7 rout of Cincinnati.

Ohio University's 20-point second quarter sparked the Bobcats past Marshall 30-0 and Byron Florence's 54-yard touchdown run in the third quarter boosted Northern Illinois over Xavier.

Elsewhere, Baldwin-Wallace, finishing 9-1, nipped Ashland 24-17. Central State took a 61-0 beating at Tennessee A&I. Findlay earned a share of the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference title with Anderson, Ind., beating Wilmington 37-20. Akron edged Youngstown State 7-0 and Ohio Northern outscored Georgetown, Ky., 37-7.

Joe Schwartz' five touchdowns for Toledo, a Mid-American one-game record, even surprised Murphy.

"I didn't think he would score that many," said Murphy, whose ace quarterback Chuck Ealey was hampered by a sore shoulder.

"The rest will do all of our kids good," he said. "Ealey will be all right for Richmond."

Schwartz, a junior running back from Adrian, Mich., ran four, 14, 19, nine and one yards, finishing Kent State with an 0-5 conference mark and 3-8 for all games.

Toledo will carry a 11-0 regular season record as well as its third straight Mid-American title against Richmond, 5-5 over-all.

Rams, Cowboys Take Grid Leads

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
"We're a pretty good football team," said Coach Tom Landry.

"We're still in the race," countered George Allen.

Landry had just watched his Dallas Cowboys vault into the lead in the National Conference East with a 13-0 victory over Washington, regaining the spot they had been pursuing since being knocked off 20-16 by Allen's Redskins seven weeks ago.

But Sunday's triumph wasn't

the only thing on Landry's mind. "We're thinking about Thursday," he said. That's when the Cowboys take on the Los Angeles Rams.

The game will be an additional Thanksgiving Day feast for National Football League fans, bringing together a pair of divisional leaders.

The Rams, harassing quarterback John Brodie all afternoon and limiting potent San Francisco to a pair of field goals, made it a season sweep over the 49ers with a 17-6 triumph that put them atop the NFC West.

In the day's other "big" game—naturally all games in the NFL are big but some are bigger than others—Miami grabbed a bit of breathing room in the American Conference East as Garo Yepremian booted the Dolphins to a 17-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

Around the rest of the league, Kansas City kept on Oakland's heels in the AFC West with a 28-10 victory over Denver while the Raiders were squeezing by San Diego 34-33. Detroit stifled Chicago 28-3. Minnesota beat New Orleans 23-10. Pittsburgh beat the New York Giants 17-13. Cleveland crushed New England 27-7. Cincinnati belted Houston 28-13. The New York Jets whipped Buffalo 20-7 and Philadelphia swatted St. Louis 37-20.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) game, the Green Bay Packers invade Atlanta to take on the Falcons.

"Thirteen points just isn't a great deal by any means—unless the defense is playing like ours," said Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach, who scored the game's only touchdown on a 29-yard scamper the first time the Cowboys got their hands on the ball. Mike Clark got his foot into it twice for 6 and 48-yard field goals.

Brodie threw four interceptions, three of them picked off by Gene Howard. But the other one was the killer, a theft by Jim Nettes who ran it back 29 yards for a touchdown in the final minute of the first half that put the Rams ahead 14-6. Earlier Roman Gabriel had flipped a 13-yard scoring strike to Jack Snow.

"We knew we had the ability to control our own fate," said Dolphins Coach Don Shula, who left the Colts in 1970 to take over at Miami. "But by no means are we in." Baltimore has four games—including another one with the Dolphins on Dec. 11—to wipe out Miami's 1½-game lead.

The Colts scored first on Don Nottingham's four-yard run in the first period. But in the third, the Dolphins bounced in front as Jim Kikic plunged over from one-yard out and Bob Griese hit Marv Fleming with a 10-yard touchdown pass. Before the period was over, though, it was tied again as Norm Bulach bulldozed over from the four.

That left it up to Yepremian, whose 20-yard field goal with 6:20 remaining in the game provided Miami with the winning cushion.

The Broncos had hoped to give their new head coach, Jerry Smith, a winning debut—but Len Dawson had other ideas. The Chiefs' quarterback threw for three touchdowns and 294 yards.

Daryle Lamonia also threw for three for the Raiders, outshining the 321-yard aerial display by the Chargers' John Hadl. "We were good to the last play," said Hadl, who had San Diego on the Oakland four-yard line with 1:11 to play, only to have his potential game-winning pass picked off by the Raiders' Dan Conners.

Vikings quarterback Bob Lee, making his first start of the season, and running back Clint

Jones each swept in for four-yard touchdowns and Fred Cox kicked three field goals to turn back the Saints.

Leroy Kelly was the Browns' workhorse, rambling 113 yards on 23 carries and scoring two touchdowns—one on a pass from Bill Nelsen, the other on a one-yard plunge—to tumble the Patriots.

Pete Liske passed for two touchdowns and the Eagles got two more on fumble recoveries to leapfrog over the Cardinals and out of the NFC East cellar.

Hays Mum On Tirade At Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes still isn't talking about his explosion Saturday in the final moments of his Ohio State University Buckeyes' 10-7 loss to Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The Buckeyes were in the midst of a last-ditch drive that might have pulled an upset victory out of the fire for them when Wolverine defensive back Tom Darden intercepted a pass intended for Buckeye end Dick Wakefield.

The play, which snuffed out the last Buckeye hope for a win, ended with Wakefield on the ground, and Hayes obviously felt an interference penalty against the Wolverines was called for.

When there wasn't any penalty called, the angry coach stormed onto the field to berate the officials, who promptly stepped off a 15-yard penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct against Hayes.

Players and assistant coaches finally had to pull the livid Hayes from the field to the sidelines where he kicked a down marker and tore a first down indicator to shreds to the delight of the Michigan fans.

After the final gun Hayes closeted himself in his dressing room refusing to hold his customary press debriefing and even keeping Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan waiting 15 minutes in the hall outside to offer condolences. Assistant coaches Earle Bruce and Chuck Clausen said they thought Wakefield was interfered with and so did Wakefield himself when he appeared on Hayes' weekly television show Saturday night.

Clausen also claimed the Wolverines substituted three players between plays on their own touchdown drive, a violation of the rules, and that again, no penalty was called.

Floridians Stop Memphis, 103-86

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Rookie Willie Long, Ron Franz and Warren Jabali combined for 61 points Sunday as the Floridians rolled over the Memphis Pros 103-86 in the night's only American Basketball Association contest.

Long led the scoring with 22 points, followed by Franz with 20 and Jabali with 19.

Top College Teams Get Bowl Bids

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that the bowls have played the dating game, Nebraska and Oklahoma are about to play the rating game... with Alabama-Auburn not far behind.

Much of the college football season will revolve around what happens on Thursday in Norman, Okla., and Saturday at Birmingham, Ala. In the former game, top-ranked Nebraska's defending national champions take on runnerup Oklahoma in the Game of the Pick one—Week, Year, Decade, Century.

Two days later, Nov. 4 Alabama and No. 5 Auburn square off for bragging rights in the South.

All four Titans had this weekend off but two other contenders for the national championship kept rolling along. Karras said the use of drugs went "as far back as I can remember," and said he had "to laugh at the clubs around the league who absolutely deny that this sort of thing exists."

Karras played with the Lions from 1958 until his release this fall.

"All the teams deny the existence of pills in their training rooms, too, or they keep it hush-hush. It is stupid to deny it because it is very prevalent and absolutely true," Karras said.

Lion team doctors Richard Thompson and Edward Guise earlier this year denied the common use of pills by Lion players.

At a conference following the death of Lion wide receiver Chuck Hughes of a heart attack, they estimated dispensing two pep pills in two years for ordinary treatment, and said all medication had to be authorized by them.

Relocating Old Graves

SILCOTT, Wash. (AP) — Grave robbers seeking salable Indian artifacts and bones have been desecrating a 19th century burial ground above the Snake River on the Washington-Idaho border, anthropologists from both states say.

"This site was raped by a white with no social conscience," said Dr. Roderick Sprague, University of Idaho anthropologist working with Washington State University scholars to discover something of the life, death, and styles of Indians in the 1800's. About 38 graves have been disturbed in what Sprague called a "blatant example of grave robbing."

The Indians in the graves were believed to be part of those who followed Nez Perce Indian Chief Joseph in his flight from the U.S. Cavalry in the bloody Nez Perce War of 1877.

"They don't let our Indians rest in peace whether they are dead or alive," said Nez Perce Tribal Chairman Richard Halfmoon. "It makes me mad to just be around the place and to see the way things are."

Mike Roderfer, a WSU graduate student directing a crew of eight Nez Perce in relocating the graves, said whoever made the excavations was "awfully good."

Roderfer said his crew was working to relocate the graves which were possibly endangered by the filling of the reservoir behind Lower Granite Dam after the structure's scheduled 1974 completion.

Each of the desecrated graves had been carefully located by pushing a rod into the soil until it touched a coffin, Roderfer said. After being dug up, he said, most of the handmade coffins were smashed open and the jewelry and bones were removed. In many cases the skulls also were removed.

An ancient skull is reported to bring $25 on an underground market in nearby Lewistown, Idaho, and sources say the skulls are shipped to California for resale at higher prices.

Karras Says Pep Pill Use Widespread In Pro Ranks

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-Detroit Lion star Alex Karras says that the use of drugs is widespread in professional football.

In a story written for the Monday edition of the Detroit Free Press, Karras said that former football player Dave Meggessey was "mostly right" when he alleged that many, if not most, professional football players use drugs to increase their ability and ignore injuries.

"I've taken shots, or novocaine injections, and I've taken pep pills, and so have a lot of other Lions and so do players on almost any team you'd care to name," Karras said. "It's a very common thing. Some players take 'em (pep pills) by the handful before a ballgame."

Karras said pep pills were as common as novocaine shots, which were taken to "play over" injuries.

He recalled taking shots during much of the 1964 season to ignore a groin injury, and not sleeping "18 hours in a whole week for weeks" because of the pain after the shot wore off the reinjured muscle.

While no one ever orders shots or pills, Karras said, pressure from coaches and teammates drives players to take them so as to perform when they are hurt.

Karras said the use of drugs went "as far back as I can remember," and said he had "to laugh at the clubs around the league who absolutely deny that this sort of thing exists."

Karras played with the Lions from 1958 until his release this fall.

Late Quail Season

Stated In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has set a statewide closing date of Feb. 15 for the 1971-72 quail season.

This adds two weeks to the season. However, the season still will be two weeks shorter in many areas due to a later start.

A dry early spring, followed by heavy rains and some flooding through the summer teamed up to cause erratic nesting conditions for quail in most areas. This caused widespread late nesting and late hatches.
